

To Cuba In Defiance . . . SDS National Council Follow Carmichael

By ANDY CORRIGAN
Junior Staff Writer

Carl Davidson, inter-organizational secretary for Students' for a Democratic Society, received a mandate from the SDS National Council held last weekend to travel to Cuba with 15 other SDS members December 21.

Davidson was formerly a graduate assistant at the University and was the founder of the Nebraska chapter of SDS. He left the University last year to accept a position in the national SDS office.

Davidson and the other members of the group are following the lead of Stokely Carmichael, president of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

IN VIETNAM
Carmichael traveled to Cuba earlier this year and is presently in North Vietnam. Upon returning to the United States he will be facing criminal charges for breaking U.S. passport laws.

Cuba is among the many communist countries that are presently off limits for all American citizens.

Davidson was unavailable for comment.

Student strikes, anti-draft measures and the Washington march, were the other prime concerns at the quarterly meeting of the National Council of the Students for a Democratic Society.

The nation's largest radical student organization met October 6 through 8 in Madison, Wisconsin.

STUDENT STRIKE
The organization and consumption of a national student strike in the spring was the major item discussed by the 300 SDS delegates and members.

The proposed national student strike was originated by Davidson at the annual SDS national convention held last June.

The strike which would be carried out simultaneously on several major campuses would have a threefold purpose.

PURPOSE
First, it would radicalize the student power movement by relating national issues such as Vietnam to campus issues, according to a national SDS officer.

Second he said, "it would help to develop a radical student movement which would discredit the National Student Association," a liberal student organization.

Third he said, "it would re-establish SDS as leader of left politics on campus." SDS's position has received a definite challenge in this area by the Student Mobilization Committee which has devoted itself to the anti-war issue on campuses throughout the nation, according to an article in the National Guardian, an independent newspaper.

At the national council many of the delegates voiced dissenting opinions on the student strike.

DISSENT
"The strike won't work because most students will be scabs (strike breakers)," said a delegate and "the whole thing will be meaningless."

A Berkeley coed said that campus issues definitely had to be related to the strike. She cited the fact that the Berkeley Vietnam Day Committee called for a student strike and received no response but two weeks later they struck over a Navy recruiting booth to vent their frustration on a university court system which they opposed.

From this she concluded that it would be impossible to call a general strike and get much interest because the strikes have to be spontaneous.

TAKE OVER SCHOOL
A Wisconsin delegate advocated walking into the classrooms and taking over the university instead of walking out, but the consensus of the group was a firm no.

"The school needs you. You're strengthening the system. If we want to break the system we have to pull out our brains," another SDS member concluded.

Pros and cons aside, the council decided to proceed with strike plans.

OTHER MATTERS
In other matters the council discussed the Washington Peace March scheduled for October 21 by the National Mobilization Committee.

SDS policy does not favor mass protests but will support all movements by left-wing groups.

During the council meeting the National Mobilization Committee reported that the Washington police would not give them a parade permit if the marchers engaged in the civil disobedience which NMC has planned.

PLAN MARCH
SDS responded with a resolution urging the NMC to disregard the police action and continue their original plan of civil disobedience during the march as will the SDS participants.

In connection with the SDS national policy of "opposition to conscription of any form" the council resolved to support The Resistance, the Oct. 16 anti-draft action.

On this date, males eligible for service who are participants in The Resistance will return their draft cards to Selective Service offices throughout the United States.

School Of Dentistry Does Health Survey . . . Joins Pittsburgh University

The University College of Dentistry has been asked by the U.S. Public Health Service and the American Dental Association (ADA) to join in a survey to study the possible links between smoking and health.

Dr. James McCabe, instructor of operative dentistry, was put in charge of the survey at the University during a meeting at ADA headquarters in Chicago Sept. 29 and 30.

"The exact program has not yet been formulated but the results of the survey will probably be used in the training of dentists and also forwarded to practicing dentists," Dr. McCabe said.

PITTSBURGH UNIVERSITY
The University of Pittsburgh has also been asked to participate in the survey.

"In choosing these two schools the public health service and the ADA may be trying to diversify the survey by choosing one comparatively rural area and another densely populated industrial area," McCabe commented.

The survey is being conducted on a $2,500 a year grant from the public health service and may be renewed for up to three years.

NOT APPLIED RESEARCH
"This survey is not an applied research but is an attempt to collect, develop and disseminate information about smoking and health," Dr. McCabe said.

Although Dr. McCabe hasn't been asked by the ADA to concentrate the survey in any particular area, he expects that an emphasis will be placed on the oral health aspects.

Dr. McCabe expects to survey every dentist in the state, junior and senior high schools and various other Nebraskans selected at random.

Faculty Positions Remain Vacant Due To Income

The University will not attempt to fill its vacant faculty positions this year because the enrollment fell short of projected figures, according to Vice Chancellor Mark Hobson.

This semester's student population is about 500 below the number anticipated by budget planners last spring. Since all tuition funds are earmarked for the instructional budget, this area will bear the major impact of the population drop, Hobson said.

He stressed that the change in hiring policy would not greatly affect the instructional program.

EVERY YEAR
"There are unfilled positions on the faculty every year," he said. "This year we will not make any se-cial attempts to fill them. It merely means we will postpone hiring until a later date."

In appropriating University funds, the 1967 Legislature worked under the assumption that student enrollment would hit the 18,500 mark. Actual enrollment stands at 18,004.

Tuition from 500 additional resident students would have added $117,000 to the instructional budget.

SELF-BALANCING
This drop in tuition income will "obviously create a problem," the dean of faculties said. However, the effect of the drop will be somewhat equalized because the University has a self-balancing budget.

Under this type of budget each department will determine the number of vacant positions, depending upon the money allocated to them to hire instructors.

Part-time and temporary appointments will probably feel the greatest effect, Hobson said.

WORK LOADS
He added that faculty members will probably carry lighter class loads than the Legislature planned.

In approving University funds the Legislature denied the Board of Regents' request that the faculty work load be set at an average of 478 student credit hours. They stipulated instead that the average by set at 530 credit hours.

"But the average will be about 500, which is close to what it was a year ago," Hobson said. An average of 500 credit hours was used as a guideline for last year's biennium, he pointed out.

The actual shortage of tuition will not be computed for some time, according to legislative fiscal analyst George Dworak.

New York Offers Law Scholarships

Applications for 20 Root-Tilden law scholarships are now being accepted for consideration by the scholarship committee at the New York University School of Law.

Candidates must apply to the committee by Dec. 15, according to an announcement by the New York law school.

In order to qualify for the scholarship an applicant must hold a baccalaureate degree, be a male citizen of the United States and be between the ages of 20 and 28.

He must not previously have attended any law school. He must be unmarried, and may not marry during his first or second year of law school.

A candidate must rank academically in the upper quarter of his college class, and he must exhibit qualities of leadership and character that will enable him to become an honorable and effective member of the legal profession.

The Root-Tilden scholarship is valued at $3,500 a year includes in addition to $2,000 tuition $1,500 for living expenses, the announcement said.

The purpose of the scholarship, the announcement stated, is "to aid young men who show promise of becoming outstanding lawyers in the American tradition of public and community leadership by the bar."

The 20 scholarships are awarded each year on a regional basis, with two scholarships allocated to each of the ten federal judicial circuits.

Nebraska is in the eighth circuit with Arkansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota and South Dakota.

The SHAKE-A-PUDDIN' Revolution!

WHAT IS ITS SIGNIFICANCE?

Beverly Besick,
Dept. of Anthropology

Archetypal.

The ritual of the Midnight Pudding Snack is well established in primitive societies. Since Shake-A Pudd'n does not require refrigeration, it lends itself to use in dormitories (surely one of the most primitive societies), thereby fulfilling this basic, instinctual human drive at the precise moment it arises.

Harry Holsome,
Dept. of Health Education

The American Dream come true.

Shake-A Pudd'n combines healthful nutrition, bracing exercise and, above all, Good Clean Fun. An essential part of the Physical Fitness Program.

Sylvia Cimbill,
Dept. of Psychology

Truly Freudian.

Powder and water are mixed in a cup, an obviously mammalian formation, seen on a deeper level as Mother. One shakes the cup, in a desperate but futile attempt to shake off the inhibiting Superego and free the primitive id.

Michael Media,
Dept. of Sociology

A true product of the Electric Age.

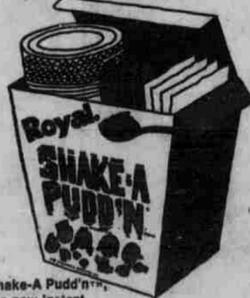

Shake-A Pudd'n has transformed a fragmented, time-consuming, mechanical task into an almost instantaneous, totally involving experience. Definitely "cool." Although equally good at room temperature.

Francine Factor,
Dept. of History

Of tremendous historical significance.

Had Shake-A Pudd'n been discovered in the 18th Century, the French Revolution would probably never have taken place when it did. Marie Antoinette's famous remark, "Let 'em eat cake," would no doubt have been transformed to "Let 'em eat pudd'n," thereby appeasing the masses for at least another century.

Shake-A Pudd'n is the new instant dessert mix from Royal.

Just put water and powder in the cup, snap the lid, shake for 30 seconds and let it set. In Chocolate, Vanilla, Butterscotch or Banana. Each package complete with four puddings, spoons, lids, and throwaway shakers.
