

Grow Up

Shocking, though true in many aspects was a statement made by Norm Snusted, Schraun Hall resident director, in relation to dormitory floors occupied by only graduate students.

This immaturity is well pointed out in classes which contain undergraduates, and those individuals who are working hard to get an education—graduate students, students who have returned from military service and older people returning to get a degree.

A Free Press

(Editor's Note: The following editorial reprinted from the Kansas State Collegiate, points up some specific free press problems on college campuses.)

The question of so-called "journalistic responsibility" was raised Tuesday at Senate and immediately buried after a near-unanimous vote against restrictive legislation — but the question still lies entombed in the minds of many senators.

been interpreted in Patterson vs. the State of Colorado to mean "there should be no previous restraints upon publications") it portrays a belief held in Senate by more than the bill's sponsor.

Grand Sprix by George Kaufman

This being the month of the Great Pumpkin, the time has come to confer upon deserving parties the annual Make Every Day A Halloween awards.

Our Man Hoppe

Ronald Reagan Figures It Out

Arthur Hoppe

The White House has flatly denied Governor Ronald Reagan's charge that we are actually winning the war in Vietnam and the President is cleverly keeping it a secret.

Sight'n... Sound

By Cater Chamblee

"Vietnam: The War and The People" is a documentary film produced by the British Broadcasting Co.

Repertory Theatre

Pace, Talk Hurt 'Misanthrope'

By Kenneth Pellow, Instructor of English. It would be difficult to find two plays that differ more than Moliere's Scapin, as produced last year by Nebraska University Theater and Moliere's The Misanthrope, which opened the University Theatre season last Friday evening.

have served considerably better. If concentration is fixed upon the language of a play, one has a right to demand that the language be pleasing in itself.

Campus Opinion

Dear Editor: The students should be held responsible for the administration's error in calculating the amount of dormitory space necessary is both ridiculous and absurd.

Daily Nebraskan

Vol. 91, No. 24. Second-class postage paid at Lincoln, Neb. TELEPHONE: 475-2555, 475-2556, 475-4800.