The Other Half

By BARB MARTIN
Junior Staff Writer

"A Delicate Balance," by Edward Albee, will be presented at Howell Theater Nov. 3, 4 and 5 at 8 p.m. The Pulitzer Prize-winning play explores the responsibility of an individual to others and examines human conduct in a contemporary setting.

Best-selling recording artists, Los Indios Tabajaras, will appear at the Nebraska Theater Nov. 2 at 8 p.m. as part of the Speaker-Artist Series. The Brazilian Indians have performed for radio and television and have toured Latin America, Europe, and the U.S.

The Unimime Troupe of the University Theater will present a program of short pantomimes Nov. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Auditorium of Sheldon Art Gallery. The group, under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Cole, will feature a knife act, the traditional jealous scene, the pantomime of an old-fashioned movie, and a Chinese samurai routine.

The Nebraska Union Film Society is presenting a showing of the Russian movie, The Cranes are Flying, Nov. 1. The film is directed by M. Kalatozov and stars Tatyana Samoilova, Alexei Batalov, Vasily Merkurjev and S. Shovrin.

The film is concerned with the relationship of a young couple during wartime and the struggle to live a meaningful life when one of the pair is killed.

The Nanny, starring Bette Davis, is the movie scheduled for Nov. 3 and Nov. 5 at the Nebraska Union. Showings will be Friday at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. and Sunday at 7:30 p.m. The film is concerned with murder in a typical English family.

An Italian puppet film featuring a wicked magician, a Punch and Judy show and other events in color will be presented at Sheldon Auditorium Nov. 4 at 10:30 a.m. The Magic World of Topo Gigio is directed by Franco Serino and Luca DeRico.

American Impressionist painter J. Alden Weir will be represented at an exhibition at Sheldon Art Gallery Nov. 7. The display will include loans from museum and library collections and an illustrated catalogue. The Gallery will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The work of Gunnar Anderson, California artist who specializes in children's portraits, will be displayed at Sheldon Gallery Nov. 7 to Dec. 3. The collection will be exhibited in the Art Shop.

The University of Nebraska State Museum will present a special exhibition concerning Religion In Nebraska Nov. 5 from 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. The exhibition will be held in the Hall of Man, the Hall of Wildlife, Elephant Hall and the Health-Science Galleries.

The Canterbury Club of St. Marks on the Campus will present the last in the series of programs, Sex and the Single Christian, Nov. 5. The program will be held at the Church at 6:30 p.m.

An exploration of the book, Games People Play by Eric Berne, will be sponsored by the Wesley Foundation at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 5.

Film analysis will be the subject of the discussion to be held at the Newman Center Sunday at 7 p.m. La Starda, directed by Fellini, will be shown as an example of the technical qualities used by directors to emphasize the impression created by a movie.

United Ministries in Higher Education will sponsor a program entitled How to Succeed Without Selling Out on Nov. 5 at 6:30 p.m. Earl Dyer, executive editor of the Lincoln Star, will speak.

Dr. Grant Gilmore, University of Chicago law professor, will address law students and faculty Nov. 7 and 8. The topic for his speech Nov. 8 at 10:30 a.m. at Sheldon Auditorium will be "Security Law, Formalism and Article Nine of the Uniform Commercial Code."

Dr. Gilmore has served as faculty member at Yale University and holds three degrees from Yale. His two-volume book, "Security Interests in Personal Property," was awarded the Ames Prize from the Harvard Law School.

A wildlife film-lecture will be presented by Robert W. Davison Nov. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the Love Library Auditorium. The lecture, The Vanishing Sea, is a part of the Audubon Series sponsored by the Extension Division and the State Museum.

Dr. Evsey D. Domar, professor of economics at M.I.T. will lecture Nov. 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the Nebraska Union on the topic, Recent Reforms in the Soviet Union. Dr. Domar received his Ph.D. from Harvard University and has been affiliated with the Carnegie Institute, The University of Chicago, Johns Hopkins University, and Oxford University in England.

Kosmet Klub Evolved From Junior Class Play

A play presented in 1911 by several members of the junior class of the University has evolved to the full-scale production known today as the Kosmet Klub Fall Revue.

The group was well received and organized into a men's dramatic society. They decided to schedule a competitive all-male skit revue each autumn and an original musical comedy each spring, according to Joe Carraway, 1967 fall show chairman.

Kosmet Klub's first spring show was the Diplomat, written by Professor R. D. Scott, who is still living. This established the precedent for original spring shows.

After World War II, however, Kosmet Klub began staging Broadway musical comedy successes. These included Girl Crazy, Kiss Me Kate, Bloomer Girl and Annie Get Your Gun.

In the 1960's, their productions have been The Pajama Game; Damn Yankees; Gus and Galls; Florence; Bye, Bye Birdie and Irma La Douce.

The present Fall Revue

format was started before World War II, according to Mr. Frank Halgren, Kosmet Klub advisor.

Buzz Brashear, a former Kosmet Klub historian, said that the fall show appealed mainly to the University's students in its early years. Today, however, the people of Lincoln comprise a large part of the audience.

Such notables as Johnny Carson and Governor Norbert Tiemann were Kosmet Klub members in the 1940's.

The Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet are presented each year at the Fall Revue. In addition, Kosmet Klub's Stephen Cass Memorial Scholarship is awarded to an undergraduate in the College of Engineering and Architecture.
