Borgialli's Team 'Improved' In Great Plains Tournament

Nebraska wrestling coach Orval Borgialli felt that the Nebraska team showed improvement over last year in their first competition at the Great Plains Tournament Friday and Saturday at the NU Coliseum.

Freshman Jim Haug finished second in the 167-pound division and brought praise from Borgialli. "We knew he had the ability but hadn't seen him in action," Borgialli said.

Haug broke his hand in his second match of the tournament and will be out for six weeks.

Also drawing praise from the wrestling coach was 152 pound Duane Dobson, who finished second in his class. "Duane as far as technique and know-how is our best wrestler," Borgialli said. Dobson placed second behind Bob Douglas, a second place finisher in the World Championships last year.

Dennis Dobson, Duane's

brother, placed second in the 145 pound class. "Denny looked good at times and not so good at others," Borgialli explained. "All he needs is more confidence."

Borgialli was also impressed by freshmen Ken Coleman, Tom Meyer, and Jim Ryan.

"Meyer didn't win any matches but looked good in a match against Dennis Dobson," Borgialli said. Ryan, a heavyweight, finished second and Coleman, a 115 pounder placed fourth.

Borgialli was glad to see 137 pound Gary White, who finished second, do well. "Gary cut down from 168 pounds and filled a gap for us in that division, he said. "The 137 class had been a question mark before."

Borgialli said senior Harry Gaylor's experience is paying off after his third place in the 177 pound division.

Other Nebraska finishers included: Larry Tepley, third place at 115; Ron Thorn, fourth place at 123; Bob Pewthers, third place at 152; Jerry Munson, fourth place at 160; Gene Libel, second place at 191; Scott Swanson, second place at Hwt.; and Ken Kusserow, fourth place at Hwt.

Borgialli said seniors Ben Barends and Richard Kerr finished third at 177 and 160 pounds respectively in the Northern Iowa Invitational this weekend.

—Baack Returns To Old Form— Huskers Split With WSU

By MARK GORDON
Sports Editor

It's on to the sandy beaches of Hawaii for the Nebraska basketball team after splitting a two game set with the Washington State Cougars at Pullman Friday and Saturday.

The Huskers, 3-1, face a Hawaii Rainbow squad that returns its leading scorer Harvey Harmon and four other letterman, both Monday and Wednesday nights in Honolulu.

While the Hawaii tilt with former professional cage coach Red Rocha's Rainbows isn't expected to be a strong test for Joe Cipriano's Huskers, Nebraska found itself severely taxed over the weekend against the towering Cougars.

HOT-SHOOTERS

Nebraska was unable to cope with a hot-shooting WSU squad that found the range in the first half Friday with a 24 of 34 performance as it led the Huskers 52-38 at the halftime gun.

The Cougars with forward Gary Elliott throwing in 22 points, stunned Nebraska 41-32 in the second half as they won going away 93-70.

If anything bright was to be found from the season's first loss it was Tom Baack's 19 point showing which proved a foreshadowing of Saturday's final result.

REBOUNDS TOO!

Baack, who rallied his mates Saturday against the westerners, averaging 6'8" in the front line, scored 25 points and pulled down 11 rebounds as the Huskers did an about face and trimmed the Cougars 91-76.

Baack's top game of the young season was backed up by a 23 point production from the hot fingers of senior Stuart Lantz and an 18 point job by sophomore Tom Scantlebury.

In controlling the backboards 48-38, Nebraska dominated play with a 43-34 half-time lead and also outscored the westerners 49-42 in the second stanza as it won a 15 point verdict.

NOT PUZZLED

WSU's 1996 District Eight All American Jim McKean, who stands 6'9", wasn't puzzled by the Husker defense as he ripped off 31 points and grabbed 11 rebounds Saturday while scoring 18 markers Friday.

In contrasting Nebraska's 23 point defeat and 15 point triumph, the shooting percentages best summarized the Huskers' 38 point reversal.

Friday, Nebraska was held to a shivering 35.8 performance, while the Cougars scored almost at will in hitting 60 per cent of their drives.

AVERAGE FALLS

Saturday, before the second capacity turnout of 5,000 Nebraska outshot Washington State 46 to 43 per cent from the field.

Friday, WSU tallied five men in double figures and Nebraska had two, while Saturday Nebraska placed four men in twin digits, and the Cougars showed just two men.

The long trip to Pullman also dropped Nebraska's game scoring rate below the 100 point level as the two night set lowered the Huskers to a respectable 91.5 figure.

Sophomore center Bob Gratopp, who had been the top Huskers scorer with a 19.2 average, was held to 15 points in the games that left Nebraska without its reserve 6'7" center for an indefinite period.

Dale Von Seggern, who had been pursuing Gratopp for the starting berth, hurt an ankle in the second half of the Friday night game but it was undetermined how long the injury would sideline the former Orchard Neb. standout.

Kelly Is Banned From Recruiting

The Big Eight Conference Saturday penalized Nebraska for an incident involving a prospective Nebraska athlete's automobile repair bill.

According to the Associated Press, the league faculty representatives banned Husker assistant football coach George Kelly from recruiting for one year and reprimanded head football coach and athletic director Bob Devaney for action involving a Kansas athlete who never enrolled at Nebraska.

NCAA CENSURE

The NCAA had earlier reprimanded and censured Nebraska which is the mildest NCAA penalty.

The Big Eight ruled that Nebraska violated a conference rule since a representative of the school's athletic interests, not a member of the athletic department, arranged for the $600 repair bill to be deducted from the prospect's future earnings.

DIDN'T CHECK

The league considered arrangement to deduct the repair bill as a loan, while the NCAA previously termed it a loan without interest.

The AP said the league penalized Devaney since he approved the setup without checking to see if it met league standards while Kelly was barred from recruiting since he was involved with the recruiting of the unnamed athlete.

In analyzing future recruiting operations, Devaney said "it involves no reduction of scholarships. It merely means that the rest of the staff will have to work a little extra."

Wayne Scores Again!

Nebraska's all-time leading tackler, Wayne Meylan, was selected to his fourth All-American team when the Associated Press named the Nebraska star to its first All-American team defensive middle guard position Saturday.

Meylan set five Husker defensive peaks this season in leading Nebraska to the nation's leading total defense record.
