

Husker vaulter Boyd Epley . . . sets NU record as he scrapes the Stadium ceiling in a 15-1 effort against Iowa State Saturday.

Trackmen spike ISU, 108-14

By Bonnie Bonneau
Sports Assistant

The Husker trackmen gave coach Frank Sevigne the highest scoring dual in his career at Nebraska as they ran over the Iowa State Cyclones, 108-14, Saturday in the stadium.

Iowa State got only one first all afternoon while the Huskers swept all three places in seven events.

They began by getting first, second and third in the shot put with Dennis Hagin taking the high honors. Then Clifton Forbes took first in the 60-yard dash with two Huskers following him across the finish.

Lonnie Sherlock had a double win in the high and low hurdles. Other NU men finished second and third behind him in both events. John Mottley lead the sweep in the 440-yard dash.

The other sweeps came in the 1,000 and 880-yard runs as Dan Morran and Les Hellbush respectively leading the finish.

Seven meet records were broken and another tied in the win.

Boyd Epley set both a meet record and a school record in the pole vault.

John Simmons ran the first leg, followed by Ron Lee and Hugh McGovern. Clifton Forbes ran his anchor leg in 47.5 to finish the record-setting 3:19.9 finish.

Steve Krebs set a meet record with his high jump of 6'3 1/2"; Hagin with his 56'10" heave of the shot; Mel Campbell with a 9:28.6 two-mile; and Morran on a 2:14.5 880-yard run.

Lone Cyclone

The only ISU win came in the mile run when Mike Houck ran a 4:19.4 breaking another meet record.

Other Husker winners were Lennox Burgher in the long jump, 23' 3/4" and Hugh McGovern in the 600 with a 1:11.8.

The ISU dual was the final indoor meet for the Huskers before the Big Eight Indoor Championships next weekend in Kansas City, Mo.

Wounded Cornhuskers take on rock chalk gang

By George Kaufman
Sports Editor

The Nebraska Cornhuskers, their backs to the wall and the ghosts of seasons past looming above them, take on the league-leading Kansas Jayhawks tomorrow night in the Coliseum with a last chance at conference title hopes the prize.

The ghost combined with a tenacious Colorado basketball team Saturday to shock Joe Cipriano's second-place Huskers, 75-73 in the Colorado fieldhouse.

A Big Eight television audience saw the Buffaloes play like anything but a last-place team as they jumped out to an early lead and carried the game to the frustrated Nebraskaans down to the wire.

Sox Walseth's l u c k l e s s Buffs, carrying a 1-9 league record into the contest at Boulder, almost completely ignored the usually reliable NU press and used several fatal Nebraska mistakes in the closing minutes to finally win a heartstopper.

Poetic Justice

In a way, the upset was only poetic justice for the Buffs, as they have had to watch too many close ones tip the other way on their tumble to the depths of the Big Eight standings.

After having had to play catch-up and then running out to as much as a five-point lead, it looked like the Huskers could shake Colorado with a 67-64 lead with four and a half minutes left to play on two Ron Simmons swishers.

Then the roof caved in as NU went to a delay pattern. Gordon Tope and Mike Reibich both broke the stall attempt with steals, Reibich getting an easy layup and Tope hitting two free throws on a retaliation foul.

Tom Baack then had to keep the Huskers in contention as he made six straight points within the final minute and a half, but the Buffs remained one point ahead each time.

With the Huskers trailing 74-73, the senior forward intentionally fouled Tope and gambled paid off as the Buff guard missed the first shot and sank the second for a two-point lead.

McMurry had done a lot of damage to Nebraska hopes as he shared Colorado high-point honors with Reibich at 19 and hauled down six rebounds. He had been held scoreless in Nebraska's earlier easy win over straight in the contest with no misses, saw his shot bounce off the backboard into the waiting hands of 6-7 Kermit McMurry just as the buzzer sounded.

the Buffs in Lincoln.

Buff outside sharpshooter Pat Frink followed with 13 and Chuck Williams got 13 to back them up in a balanced offensive showing.

Lantz' 22 and Baack's 19 led soph Bob Grattopp and Simmons each had 10.

The Huskers might have had mixed feelings Saturday night on their way home when they heard the score from Lawrence, Kansas State dumped the Jayhawks in overtime, 64-61, to throw the Big Eight race for first into a three-way tie with the two Kansas teams and idle Iowa State leading and the Huskers just a game behind in the loss column.
