

Clark Spivey, an Abel Hall resident, organizes a student demonstration before the Board of Regents meeting Friday to protest the open door policy.

Demonstration called for Friday during Board of Regents meeting

A demonstration against the administration's alleged infringement on student rights has been called for Friday afternoon during the University Board of Regents open house meeting with the subcommittee on student affairs.

Clark Spivey, an Abel Hall resident, who headed an organizational meeting Thursday said the demonstration would begin at Harper Hall at 12:05 p.m. and proceed to Abel-Sandoz Halls.

From there, it would move to the Cather-Pound Dormitory Complex, to Selleck Quadrangle and would culminate at the Administration Building.

In calling the open door ruling of the housing policy an arbitrary infringement on student rights, Spivey said the group was simply using the open door ruling as a focal point in a larger issue.

Pokorny criticizes Stonybrook praises Nebraska NFU effort

After spending three days last week at a university which rejected a proposed free university system for political reasons, ASUN First Vice President Gene Pokorny has nothing but praise for Nebraska Free University (NFU).

He said NFU, which has been organized on educational motives, is one of the most successful institutions of its kind in operation today.

Pokorny was asked to speak on free universities and experimental colleges during his three-day visit at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. He said it was unfortunate the free university was rejected at Stony Brook. He explained that the almost two to one rejection by the student body resulted from a group of students wanting to give the University a poor public image.

He added it was unfortunate that Stony Brook organized the free university in a negative rather than a positive sense. NFU has been successful with more than 80 courses conducted during NFU's first two years of existence.

Pokorny speaks

Pokorny explained that he was asked to speak to the 6,000 member student body by former University history professor Dr. David Trask, who left NU in the spring of 1966 to accept a full history professorship at Stony Brook.

He said the New York University, which lacks a fraternal system, is composed of 13 residential colleges based on living units.

Among 18 University sororities... Panhellenic's objective: promote spirit—Kuester

The major objective of Panhellenic should be to promote a better spirit between the University's 18 sororities, Kathy Kuester, newly elected Panhellenic president, said Thursday.

"Panhellenic as an organization needs to be revitalized," Miss Kuester explained, so that the organization is directed more toward the entire University Greek system.

Miss Kuester felt that as Panhellenic president, she would encourage the continuation of many of Panhellenic's programs this year.

need for stronger leadership in Panhellenic. "I hope the executive staff will act as an agency of direction," she said, and that the executives will bring the Panhellenic problems to the attention of the council.

Major programs

Leadership, integration, rush system and pledge programs were some of the major problems that Miss Kuester felt should be evaluated.

The Greek system needs to question many areas of the system, she said.

However, the president acknowledged that many of the problems of the Greek system would not be solved in one year.

stay with the rushees in the dormitories during rush week and would be available for advising rushees and for answering their questions.

Political groups meet Monday

The University Concerned Democrats and University Students for McCarthy will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Nebraska Union Ballroom.

A film, produced by David Schoenbrun, former Columbia Broadcasting System Paris correspondent, entitled "Vietnam: How did we get in and how can we get out," will be shown.

Panhellenic has also begun a revision of rush rules and policy, the president reported. "This is being done by the rush chairmen council."

Another suggested change for rush week is to have student advisors on the Panhellenic rush staff. One girl from each house would be selected by interview, she said.

Gless named Danforth fellow

Darryl Gless has been awarded a Danforth Fellowship for 1968-69, according to John H. Chandler, director of the program.

Gless, who has also been awarded a Rhodes Scholarship this year, is the first winner of the award from Nebraska in six years, according to Robert L. Hough, associate dean at the University.

Miss Kuester explained that these advisors would pool their efforts in other areas, she said. Pledge education and the expansion of the Greek system in the future were two of her suggestions for a combined effort.

Conversations continued: Bill Evans

It was a private conversation. An highly personal. Bill Evans alone in a room with 3 pianos: Conversation With Myself. Six years have passed. The dangling conversation is resumed. And the pianist speaks with even more authority now. The dialogue has been perfected as the artist within has grown. With few questions, more swinging statements. Other voices, other tunes.
