

Campaign platforms promise legislation

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second part of AWS sorority candidates' opinions on issues of the AWS Constitutional race. Elections will be March 27.

Legislation on AWS issues should be in the offing if new Congressmen fulfill their campaign platforms. A candidate in the sorority congressional election, Linda McNickle, endorsed sophomore key legislation Wednesday. "I feel sophomores are just as mature as seniors and juniors," she said, "because one year just doesn't make that much difference." Miss McNickle added that sophomore key legislation may have complications.

Commenting on a no hours system, Miss McNickle said, "I really don't feel that Nebraska is ready for it." AWS legislation should stay in the area it is in now, she noted. "Until we solve our problems in the key system we should not expand AWS jurisdiction." Bitsy Brownlee was undecided on sophomore keys. "I have mixed feelings on sophomore keys," she said, noting there are two sides to the situation. Maturity-wise, sophomores should have keys," she said, "but they (sophomore keys) would probably entail a lot more administrative details." On expansion of AWS jurisdiction, Miss Brownlee remarked, "I don't think AWS should get involved in dormitory problems such as meal tickets; it would be more fuss than it's worth."

show the University that women students are interested in solving campus problems." "We are not in a position to demand," Miss Fifer contended, "but it would be within AWS jurisdiction to suggest." Jan Parks endorsed sophomore key legislation — "AWS should strive for the passage of extended key privileges before next semester," Miss Parks said.

band, I don't think the use of a key is a more serious responsibility." "Should not intrude" On AWS expansion Miss Saunders said, "I do not feel that AWS should expand — it should be concerned with women students only and should not intrude into other areas." Sophomore keys on this campus are inevitable, Mary Lynne Nelson stated. "But I don't think they will be possible until the present program has been fully evaluated."

a review of our present system and an awareness of key systems on other campuses, I think sophomore keys should be passed this spring . . ." Miss Parker also supported "the possibility of a girl keeping her key with key checks perhaps twice a month."

make the women students aware of the facts . . ." she said. Court candidates announced Christie Schwartzkopf, assistant election chairman, announced the candidates for sorority court Thursday. Candidates are: Janice Krecji, Debbie Doster, Jane Leeding, Jan May, Patti Austin, Susan Thompson, Mary Palmer, Ruth Bernhardt, Janet Wisniewski, Cynthia Belsky, Marilyn Jackson, Nancy Hopewell, Nancy Griffin, Susan Grothe, Joan Robertson, Bonnie Toustin, and Royce Alderson.

Greek rush book to include outline on individual houses

The Interfraternity Council (IFC) reconsidered and rejected a new rush booklet that would present the fraternity system as a whole in favor of a book outlining the individual houses. John O'Hanlon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, called for a reconsideration of the motion which passed March 12 by a 14 to 10 vote. The motion installed a general rush system book of up to 40 pages. O'Hanlon argues that a system booklet would deprive the houses of any form of individuality and the rushee of an important source of information during rush. "We rush a man for our own house because we think that it is the best—we don't rush him for the Greek system," O'Hanlon said. Dave Rasmussen, Acacia, pointed out that by presenting the houses individually the rush book had been the main factor which led him to participate in rush. Jim Guretsky, Pi Kappa Phi, said that his support of the system booklet stemmed from a concern that only a system booklet would stimulate many incoming freshmen to participate in rush week at all.

the 28 houses would be promotional for many partially interested readers. Echoing Guretsky, Buntain stressed the impossibility of presenting any real individuality for the house in four page layouts which, in his opinion, will each say more or less the same thing. Besides, according to Buntain, a general booklet would also include some of the same pictures of fraternity activity that would be found in a book treating the houses individually. Speaking from the floor, Gene Hohensee, former IFC president, indicated that there was a need for a compromise. However, he noted that the freshmen with whom he had spoken during summer orientation had indicated that they found the rush book with individual descriptions generally uninformative. The "telephone directory" aspect that was created by composite pictures of each of the 28 houses in the rush book was also not effective in interesting men to go Greek, according to Hohensee.

"Ultimately extend hours"

Susan Fifer said that "AWS should ultimately extend women's hours, but changes should be on a modified basis to please parents and administration." Miss Fifer felt that keys for sophomores and second semester freshmen would give the University an "out" because parents must give permission for their daughter to have a key. "In a sense, a girl's parents, not the University, should be making decisions as to liberalizing rules," she explained, "because a girl's parents support her."

Change key procedure

Miss Parks added that Congress "should also consider changes in key procedure. Keys should be convenient to the user — perhaps AWS should revise key rules so that a coed would not have to turn in her key after each use." "A magnetic card system and a night watchman system — two systems that are used successfully on other campuses should also be considered," Miss Parks explained. "AWS jurisdiction, except for issues which directly involve AWS, should not be broadened until Congress solves the problems AWS has now, such as liberalizing women's hours," she said. Ruth Saunders supported her approval of sophomore key legislation by saying, "If we are responsible enough to decide a career and a hus-

Expansion unlimited

Miss Nelson said, "The areas available for the expansion of AWS are unlimited . . . under the new constitution. . . AWS should expand into any area where it can help the woman student." This expansion should include programs for Lincoln women to have a "home away from home" in the dorm, she said, and an enlarged Focus on Coeds' week. Linda Parker said, "After

Investigate housing

Miss Parker contended that it "would be feasible to expand AWS jurisdiction. Before expansion 'AWS should expand our knowledge by investigating such policies as housing.' " "It should be part of our system of communication to

Circle K sponsors crusade

The University of Nebraska Chapter of Circle K International is sponsoring a letter writing crusade to build up the morale of Nebraskans serving in the armed forces overseas.

The club will provide interested parties with names and addresses of soldiers who are currently serving overseas. All of the names are of men who were originally from Nebraska. The letters will be sent to a coastal post office and forwarded overseas.

Club member Bob Harris is in charge of the project. He noted that having served in the Army he was well aware of the loneliness and frustration caused when a soldier gets nothing at mail call. Letters from almost anyone would be appreciated by most of these boys reported Harris.

The only stipulation is that the interested parties leave their names and addresses with the club, for Army security reasons. The addresses will be cleared and sent on request and the person can correspond directly with the soldier. Interested parties should write to Bob Harris, Sigma Nu Fraternity, 625 North 16th Street, Lincoln, 68508.

Some men have to be convinced whether or not to join the Greek system because there is so much pressure against us," Guretsky stated, "and this is why the system booklet is needed." "It is during rush that the houses will show individualism," Guretsky commented. Dave Buntain, IFC Secretary, said that in his view the mere size of a rush book with four pages on each of Charlie Baxter, Delta Sigma Phi, called the question after emphasizing the need for both a presentation of the system as a whole and of the individual houses in a rush book. The motion to instruct the rush book editor to prepare a booklet on the system as a whole was defeated 19 to 6. Following the vote, O'Hanlon moved that the four-page booklet be readopted. This was passed, 18 to 7. Dick Holman, Rush Book editor, assured the assembled representatives that the book would carry an introductory section on the system as a whole.

Suggest, not demand

Miss Fifer felt that AWS should expand into other areas only "as an impetus to

Berets lay plans

The University of Nebraska Army ROTC group, the Scarlet Berets, plan to take over a small Nebraska town some time this spring, according to Cadet Major Dennis Kimberlin. They will capture an area of land, seize all of the top ranking officials and destroy all key installations like water towers, bridges etc.

Following the vote, O'Hanlon moved that the four-page booklet be readopted. This was passed, 18 to 7. Dick Holman, Rush Book editor, assured the assembled representatives that the book would carry an introductory section on the system as a whole.

You don't have time to take the Reading Dynamics course?

Until you do, you won't have time for much else!

During 1967, 6,195 people in this area who didn't have time took the Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics course.

These were the really busy people. Men and women whose professions were so demanding—whose responsibilities were so overwhelming—that they simply had to do something to create more hours in the day. Many were college students who had found that their academic pursuits left no time for anything else. They were chained to the study table, with no relief in sight. Fortunately, there is an answer for students, engineers, attorneys, medical doctors, teachers, and people from all walks of life who have to read more with improved comprehension and recall.

How is Reading Dynamics different from other courses?
Conventional rapid reading courses aspire to 450 to 600 words per minute. Most Reading Dynamics graduates can read between 1,500 and 3,000 words per minute, and many go even higher.

Equal or better comprehension
With the Reading Dynamics method, you read every word. You do not skim. You learn a skill that permits you to read faster with equal or better understanding than the average reader. Our average graduate reads 4.7 times faster without sacrificing comprehension.

TIME magazine says
TIME MAGAZINE, in referring to Reading Dynamics' impact on our nation's legislators, said, "Washington has seen nothing like it since the days when Teddy Roosevelt read three books a day and ran the country at the same time."

Senate Leaders praise method
SENATOR TALMADGE, Georgia "...the greatest single step which we could take in educational progress."
SENATOR PROXMIER, Wisconsin "...one of the most useful educational experiences I ever had."

Rapid Reading in White House
The late President Kennedy invited Mrs. Evelyn Wood to the White House to teach Reading Dynamics to key members of his staff. To date, over 300,000 people have enrolled in the course. They include Senators, businessmen, engineers, housewives, high school and college students, and busy people from every walk of life... people who like to read but until they learned to read right didn't have the time.

PERFORMANCE WARRANTY
The Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics Institute pledges to increase a student's reading efficiency by at least three times. The Institute will refund a pupil's entire tuition if, after completing minimum class and study requirements, he fails to triple his reading efficiency as measured by our beginning and ending tests. Reading efficiency combines rate and comprehension—not speed alone.
