The third Air Force F-111 plane was lost on a bombing mission in North Vietnam Monday. The plane was one of six F-111 bombers flying from an air base in Thailand. U.S. Command has had no information on the plane or the fate of the two crew members aboard.

The first F-111 crashed March 28 in a remote section of Thailand. The second crashed March 30 in northern Thailand.

The $6-million planes are America's most advanced bombers.

Communist officials in Hanoi announced Monday that the party must "firmly preserve its independence in the Communist world community."

Diplomatic sources attribute the decision to the growing weakness of Communist China and erosion of Soviet leadership in the Red Camp.

Hanoi's statement is considered a declaration of independence from its key allies, bearing out diplomatic reports that President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam has decided to reserve a free hand in determining the future course of the war and of any settlement of the Vietnam conflict.

Canada's new prime minister, Pierre Elliott Trudeau, is noted as a nonconformist, youthful leader, committed to bold change.

Trudeau, a French Canadian, has recently become a member of the Liberal Party. Formerly he was a crusading socialist. His election is significant because Canada is strained by a deepening clash between the English-speaking majority and the French-speaking minority.

Active student organizations supporting five nationally recognized political candidates are currently operating in Lincoln.

Altogether, the candidates have eight headquarters throughout Lincoln. Approximately 600 University students are active workers with the various organizations.

Youth for Nixon, May 7 will be the highlight of the Richard Nixon for President campaign, according to its state coordinator for students Dan Wherry.

On that day, the former Vice President will appear in Lincoln for his only Lincoln appearance prior to the May 14 primary.

Wherry and Tom Pickering are leaders of the Nixon organization. Jeff Eves, O'Hanlon and Ron Kent are in charge of gathering support in the dorms and houses on campus.

Mostly, the Nixon organization is finalizing plans for their candidate's speech, and lining up hostesses and workers.

Wherry promised that the Nixon appearance will "really be something" and will have "lots of excitement."

Aside from planning Nixon's appearance in Lincoln, the organization hopes to assign other specific work assignments at a meeting next Tuesday night.

Youth for Nixon hopes to staff a booth in the Nebraska Union for literature distribution. The group is also planning some foot canvassing in Lincoln, but those plans are as yet incomplete.

Up to now, the campaign is going "very well," Wherry stated.

"Nationally, Nixon's speeches last week have given us all a lot of enthusiasm," he continued.

He continued to emphasize that May 7 is the "big day" in the Nixon camp.

Students for McCarthy, Minnesota Senator Eugene McCarthy is benefiting from not only three Lincoln headquarters but from a statewide organization as well.

Nebraska has been divided into 3 districts, 12 of which have full-time office staffs. Door to door canvassing is planned in all 93 counties, State coordinator Gene Pokorny said.

Ed Hiltz is chairman of the University chapter of Students for McCarthy. He coordinates McCarthy activities on campus and throughout the city.

McCarthy backers distributed a newsletter and are also developing a program to assist voters in getting to the polls May 14.

Pokorny estimated that statewide, more than 1,000 students are engaged in the campaign.

"So far, the campaign is going great, just great," Pokorny said. "We are planning on winning. No, we will win."

Students for Kennedy, Ron

Alexander is coordinator for southeast Nebraska supporters of New York Senator Robert Kennedy.

Jerry Olson and Shirley Waggoner, campus representatives for the organization have been "just super," according to Alexander. Olson and Miss Waggoner work with residence halls and houses to keep students informed on all campaign activities.

Alexander, Olson, and Miss Waggoner form part of a steering committee which governs the Kennedy campaign.

Kennedy activities will culminate in the next two weekends as about 200 students will canvass the capital city.

"We want to sit down and talk to the voters," Alexander said. He described the canvass as "the number one thing in the campaign."

Alexander emphasized that the canvass will be run strictly by students with very little adult participation. He hoped that every Lincoln voter would be contacted.

"Later on, we will probably conduct a telephone campaign, too," Alexander added.

Alexander said he is "very pleased" with student participation thus far. "More than 150 hard working students are helping out at all hours of the day, and they are having fun," Alexander said.

Students for Stassen. University Stassen supporters have begun their campaign by opening new State Headquarters and visiting personally with their candidate, former Minnesota Governor Harold Stassen.

Stassen was in Lincoln this week and will return early next week for more personal appearances.

is currently in the embryo stage. Organization meetings have been held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week, Harry Argue, a Stassen backer said.

Ultimately, the group wants to man a booth in the Union and distribute literature supporting their candidate.

The group's activities in the final three weeks of the campaign will be augmented by Stassen's personal appearances planned on campus.

Write-In Rockefeller. Phil Bowen is chairman of University students who are urging Nebraskans to write-in New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller on the May 14 ballot.

The National Student Association (NSA) sponsored a regional conference at Kansas State University. The convention discussed the philosophy of education and analyzed current methods of mass education, lecture systems, and courses. Students in role-playing workshops were put in the roles of mock faculty and administration.

The University of Illinois is holding a week of protest against the war in Vietnam. The program included gripes, poetry readings, movies and community meals. The protest will culminate Saturday with a march in Chicago Grant Park.

The University of Kansas is trying to beat Kansas State again. K-State holds the record for the longest telephone conversation, 550 hours; and KU feels they can talk longer. The marathon began with a call to the dean of women by the student body president.

Several Colorado State University faculty members and administrators have disclosed that they had given information to CIA agents on their return from overseas trips.

A joint faculty-student committee is being formed to investigate charges of racial discrimination in the athletic department at the University of Colorado.

World's shortest CPA aptitude test.

If you want to earn a living in a field that constantly offers new and exciting perspectives—new problems to solve—consider the work of the CPA.

A CPA has to grasp the essentials of many different fields, and have the independence to form objective opinions about them.

He's more in demand than ever before, by corporations, non-profit agencies, government bodies at all levels.

Why? Because the increasing complexity of business requires new concepts of fact-gathering, problem-solving, and communication of economic information.

The CPA, for example, is one of the leaders in planning new ways to use computer systems.

He might also be called upon to weigh the relative merits of social programs in terms of available resources, helping to shape an urban renewal program.

So if problems intrigue you, and if you have aptitude for concentrated, meticulous, creative thinking, you might make a good CPA—in a public accounting firm, in industry, education or government. At some point, you might even decide to form a firm of your own.

Talk with your faculty advisor. He can tell you about the courses that could lead toward a CPA certificate soon after graduation. Or you can do graduate work.

You can also learn about the work of a CPA in a booklet we'll be glad to send you. Drop a note or card to: Dept. A10, AICPA, 666 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10019
