Stoessinger Model UN speaker

Dr. John Stoessinger, director of the Political Affairs Division of the United Nations, will be the featured speaker at the second consecutive University of Nebraska Model United Nations.

The Model UN will be held Dec. 13 and 14 at the Kellogg Center according to Carol Madson, the program's chairman.

IT WILL begin Dec. 13 with a meeting of the Security Council and the three main Committees, she continued. In these sessions the groups will discuss and act upon the various resolutions presented.

At 7 p.m. Dr. Darrell Randall, professor of African studies at the American University in Washington, D.C., will speak on the role of the UN in this area.

After Dr. Randall's speech, the remainder of the evening will be spent in an informal caucus of the international block. This allows for informal discussion of issues to be acted on in the General Assembly Saturday.

The General Assembly will be held starting Saturday morning at 8 a.m., Miss Madson said. During the day the delegates will discuss resolutions chosen by the Committees on the previous day.

Saturday evening will feature an International Buffet of foods from around the world. After the banquet Dr. Stoessinger will speak on the "Crisis Areas in the United Nations." He is considered the number 3 man at the UN and is known as an excellent speaker.

The majority of Model UN delegations will be from the University of Nebraska, Madson continued, but delegates from other campuses are being urged to attend. Any four students can form a delegation to represent a country in the assembly, she said.

COST PER delegation is $8 which includes registration costs and miscellaneous expenses. Tickets for the International Buffet and speaker are being sold separately at $2.00.

Applications may be obtained from the Union Program office and must be returned there by Oct. 23.

The Model UN is being sponsored by the Nebraska

Union Talks and Topics Committee," she continued, "to promote interest and understanding of the United Nations and its activities; to encourage a greater understanding of the nations of the world, their politics, and their role in the United Nations; and to encourage investigation into the field of international politics by providing a dynamic tool for such study."

She urged all students interested in international relations to form a delegation.

"The Model UN promises much," she said, "but a lot depends on you, as students, to make it a success," Miss Madson said.

Professors organize to meet problems . . .

AAUP forms functioning committees, but lacks particular pending issue

by Jim Pedersen Senior Staff Writer

The American Association of Professors (AAUP) at the University has no particular issue pending before the organization, University AAUP President Carl Georgi said Monday.

"We have committees which function during the academic year concerning various programs, but nothing is going on right now," Georgi noted.

ACCORDING to the secretary of the University chapter of AAUP, John Felton, there are no standing committees. He added that committees are appointed from time to time to deal with various problems.

"The most important committee at this time is chaired by Prof. Wallace Peterson of Economics," Felton said. "This committee is investigating the budgetary

According to Peterson, the committee is presently dormant, but will resume activity this spring when the Nebraska State Legislature convenes.

The University AAUP holds two meetings a year. At these meetings the AAUP is addressed by a guest speaker and hears reports from local members who serve on Nebraska state AAUP committees.

The University chapter presently has members serving on the statewide committees of Financial Status of the Profession, Academic Freedom and Tenure, Faculty Participation in College Government, and the Legislative "Watchdog" committee, Georgi said.

These committees report at state meetings which are also held biannually, Georgi said. Wayne State College will be the site of this fall's state meeting Saturday Oct. 19, Georgi added.

THE UNIVERSITY AAUP, which is comprised of approximately 25 of the faculty, may take issue with any matter relating to operation of the University even though the faculty may not be immediately involved, according to Felton.

Felton pointed out that this power also includes issues involving students. The University AAUP recently supported the Student Academic Freedom document and took the position that the students should have had the opportunity to participate in the grading change, Felton said.

Felton regards the improvement of communications between the administration and faculty as the most important AAUP accomplishment in recent years.

"Meetings are held at least twice a year to find out the goals of the administration and to promote better understanding between the administration and faculty," Felton said.

Felton emphasized that there have been remarkably few instances of faculty-administration conflict.

The issues of faculty academic freedom and the restriction of faculty opinion in University policy has led to more action by AAUP chapters on other university campuses, according to Felton.

"THE UNIVERSITY of Nebraska Faculty Senate," he said, "has taken action on many issues affecting University policy."

Felton added that at the University the faculty has played a large role in the affairs of the University.

According to Georgi, the presence of an "active" AAUP chapter is indicative of excellent rapport between the administration and the faculty.

"A strong, active chapter of AAUP is an asset to the institution and to its faculty," Georgi said.

Mayor Stokes cancels speech

Cleveland Mayor Carl Stokes has cancelled his plans to speak at the University on Oct. 24, according to Dave Buntain, Nebraska Union education area director.

The mayor was forced to cancel out due to the pressure of administrative responsibilities. Buntain said the Union is attempting to reschedule Stokes for next spring.

Esquire's CLUB & CAMPUS FASHIONS By CHIP TOLBERT ESQUIRE'S FASHION EDITOR

B.D.M.O.C.? Button-down moccasins, maybe? Well, that makes as much sense as natural shoulder slacks! Actually, B.D.M.O.C. stands for Best Dressed Man on Campus. And each Fall, certain select stores throughout the country run a contest to pick the best dressed college man in their area. That's where we come in. From this group of winners, we select a panel to make up our...

COLLEGE ADVISORY BOARD, which is brought to New York in the Spring—all expenses paid—for a whirlwind week of fashion seminars, business sessions...and some exciting extracurricular activities. (The last group had a night in Greenwich Village at a swinging new club—Salvation—complete with New York fashion models for dates.)

WITH ACCUSTOMED ESQUIRE STYLE, the men were booked into Delmonico's on Park Avenue—one of New York's poshest hotels—and awaiting their arrival was a wardrobe of clothes, especially selected by our fashion staff. Before going any further, perhaps we should introduce this year's panel:

DAVID WILLIAMS is a junior attending the University of Arizona on an acting scholarship, and JAMES O'CONNOR is a psychology major at Columbia who plays varsity football. TOM SHIELDS is a 20-year-old International Relations major who is chairman of Harvard's Undergraduate Council. At Grambling College, DAVID TOLLIVER takes time out from the debating team to teach off-campus, and mathematics major KENNETH JACKER—in the Honor Program at San Jose State College—managed to maintain a 4.0 grade point average last semester while working on several campus committees and serving as treasurer of his fraternity.

STEPHEN SERBE was president of his class last year at Georgetown University, and RICK EVANS has held a number of offices in his fraternity (SAE) at Northwestern. Other fraternities were represented by JEFFREY MONT from DePaul University (Beta) and WILLIAM STRONG from San Diego State (Kappa Sig). EDWARD ENGLISH from St. Thomas College is active in the Young Democrats, and JOHN WALSH—a strapping 6'2" freshman at Boston College last year—is very sports minded.

PENDLETON, Burlington, Yardley, DuPont, Bostonian, Alligator...these are just a few of the leading toiletry and apparel manufacturers participating in the fashion sessions. Some brought prototype samples...shirts with matching ties, shaped suits, bold plaid jackets, square-toed shoes...for first-hand appraisal. The panel offered their candid opinions on all types of apparel and the results were sometimes surprising, always informative. Next month we'll give details on the fashions they picked as most-likely-to-succeed.

TOPPING IT OFF, the panel was preserved for posterity in a group photograph which appears in color in our September "Back-To-College" issue. We hope you've already seen it. If not, just look for the magazine with the Beautiful People on the cover...Tiny Tim & Friends. And I ask you now—who could be more beautiful
