

Cyclones termed 'whirlwind'

Tuesday evening's triple overtime, 94-92 victory over Wichita State indicates the excitement which may be repeated in future Husker basketball contests.

Big Eight basketball teams plunge into their third weekend of the season Friday with four non-conference games on tap while all eight conference members face tests Saturday.

Iowa State's Cyclones, who return four starters this season, have been the Big Eight whirlwind thus far, sweeping five consecutive opponents in posting the only Big Eight unbeaten record. Colorado has been the surprise package with a 4-1 record, tallying wins over Southern California, Air Force, Texas Tech and Texas. Three other teams, including pre-season Big Eight favorite Kansas, have dropped but one decision.

KANSAS WAS upended by Wisconsin in its first game, a team Nebraska downed in its opener. The Jayhawks, however, have won their last two encounters and will attempt to add two more wins with dates against Creighton and Syracuse.

Big Eight seasonal records include: Iowa State, 5-0; Colorado, 4-1; Nebraska, 3-1; Kansas, 3-1; Oklahoma, 2-1; Oklahoma State, 2-0; Missouri, 3-2; and Kansas State, 1-2.

Friday's schedule involving conference clubs include Oklahoma State at Washington, Creighton against Kansas at K-State and Creighton at K-State in the Sunflower doubleheader. Oklahoma travels to Knoxville, Tenn., Friday and Saturday to participate in the Volunteer Classic.

Saturday's slate has Iowa State at Illinois, Oklahoma State at Washington, Fresno State at Colorado, California State at Missouri, Augustana at Nebraska, K-State goes against Creighton and Kansas plays Syracuse in the final round of the Sunflower doubleheader.

Last chance for 'Husker pics'

Students have one last chance to have their pictures taken for the Cornhusker, according to Jeanne Baer, panel editor.

No appointment will be needed to have pictures taken Monday, Dec. 16 at Miller and Paine Gateway from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Tour information available at Union

Today is the first "Booth Day" for those interested in foreign study tours according to Bob Tarsitano, a spokesman of the Foreign Study League.

These tours will take place next spring an summer, he said. Applications and information will be available at a Union booth today and on Jan. 9, Jan. '0, and Feb. 12.

The movie "A Study Tour of Europe" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in the Nebraska Union on each of these days. This film explains the study tours sponsored by the Foreign Study League.

Tours include "serious but enjoyable" study programs on foreign campuses. He explained that applications should be made as soon as possible since places on foreign campuses are limited.

Tours last from 11 to 49 days and cost from $350 to $1050, averaging about $800. Subjects available for study include history, languages, government, culture, art, music, English literature, and drama.

College credit may be granted for the study depending on the approval of the department involved. Factors considered are nature of the program, student's requirements, level of achievement, etc., Tarsitano said.

Tarsitano will be available at the booth today or on the three other Thursdays. He may also be contacted at 2310 Selleck. His telephone is 432-8853.

Applications can be made as single students or as groups organized on the University of Nebraska campus, he added.

NU debate team wins third place

The University debate team of Sue Houchin and Dave Domina tied for third place in the junior division at the last tournament of the semester at Iowa State. Miss Houchin and Domina won 9, lost 2.

Four teams from Nebraska competed with teams from 40 other schools, according to Donald O. Olson, director of the debate teams.

Debaters competed in the junior division (first year college) and the senior division.

IN THE SENIOR division Ken Wald and Dave Erback won 4, lost 4; Stuart Sorensen and Wally Dean won 4, lost 4. The other junior division team of Douglas Klueder and Dave Rasmussen won 4, lost 4.

Graduate students John Stone and Richard Whitman accompanied the teams and acted as judges for other debate competition at Iowa State.

In a novice tournament last weekend in York the four University teams won 10, lost 2, Olson said. The novice tournaments are for students who have never competed in a college debate tournament.

All-sport tickets still available

About 300 student All-Sports Tickets remain on sale at the Coliseum Ticket Office, according to Athletic Ticket Manager Jim Pittenger.

He reported that 2,706 All-Sports Tickets, admitting bearers to all Nebraska home winter and spring events, have been sold as of Monday. He added that this is slightly ahead of last year's pace.

Returnees compromise but call move 'conditioned'

One student, who had worked across the country for McCarthy and was on his Chicago staff, was critical of the fact that the regulars were even invited.

"It was the old 'The democratic party needs your help' and 'We don't want you splitting the party' thing, and we were accused of being fair weather democrats and not helping Humphrey after Chicago," she says.

OTHERS LOOK upon the argument over loyalty as peripheral and perhaps unimportant to the group.

"The argument is how to enforce loyalty to the democratic party," says NU political science instructor Eric Carlson. "And, in my opinion, you cannot enforce that loyalty, so the whole argument is irrelevant."

Adds Schlitt: "It was not a serious issue . . . and the ultra-liberals there should not have been so concerned . . . Either way we would have been left all the freedom we desire. A piece of paper is not really that important."

Schlitt also saw the loyalty debate from a third point of view: "The argument . . .

showed the regulars at least that we aren't a bloc, all of the same opinion, out to get them, that we are just a group of individuals who make up our minds on each issue."

Tom Dean, another McCarthy worker, sees encouragement in the fight for the compromise wording.

"When the amendment passed by an overwhelming majority I knew we had a working group. I know many members didn't want to be a part of any party, but I was glad to see the regulars there . . . at least now we're on shouting terms with them, and that's a step forward from where we were."

'Messiah' to be presented by NU School of Music

The University School of Music will present its annual Christmas season performance of George Frederic Handel's musical masterpiece, "Messiah," at 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 15, in the University Coliseum.

The University orchestra and choral union, totalling more than 700 musicians, will be conducted by Earl Jenkins, professor of voice. Prof. Myron Roberts will be at the organ.

SOLOISTS, all voice majors in the school of music, will be Jeannette Larson, a junior from Norfolk, soprano; Linda Doeschot, a senior from Adams, alto; Rick Brandt, a junior from Lincoln, tenor, and Roger Jones, a junior from McCook, bass.

The orchestra is prepared by Emanuel Wishnow, director of the School of Music, and the two choruses in the choral union by Jenkins and John Moran, associate professor of music.

Accompanists are Linda Dokulil, a senior from Wahoo, and Evelyn Caldwell, a graduate student from Milford.

Traditional carols will be played from the Ralph Mueller Carillon by Paul Surface, a senior from Lincoln, both preceding and following "Messiah."

Music sorority Day program

Delta Omicron, the international professional and honorary music sorority, celebrated its Founder's Day Saturday, according to Marilyn Ablott, president.

About 50 alums and active members attended the program from the University of Nebraska and Kearney State chapters, Miss Ablott said.

Extinguish the season's fires, please

A simple formula could prevent many Christmas season fires according to Edward Simpson, chief of the division of environmental health and safety of the University Health Services.

When the formula is applied to Christmas greenery — trees, holly, vines — it renders them fireproof without damaging to greenery, he added.

THE FORMULA is made by mixing 9 ounces of borax and 4 ounces of boric acid in one gallon of water or 2 1/2 ounces of Borax and one ounce of boric acid in a quart of water he said. This should be generously applied to Christmas greenery with an insect spray gun.

Ingredients for the formula are available at any drug store, Simpson.

"This is also a good time to make sure that all fire extinguishers in living units are charged and ready," he added.

From That Desk In The Corner

by J. L. Baldwin
Sports Columnist

Results of most sporting events are difficult to predict but sometimes the results are fairly obvious such as in last Sunday's National Football League battle between the Chicago Bears and Los Angeles Rams at Los Angeles Coliseum.

Although the Rams were favored to win handily, the Bears minus All-League halfback Gale Sayers, simply wanted to win more than the Rams did in beating LA 17-16 with a defense that limited the Rams to only two touchdowns.

The Chicago offense wasn't explosive but quarterback Jack Concannon, fullback Ron Bull and halfback Brian Piccolo made steady gains and retained the football for much of the afternoon. But Los Angeles played poorly and quarterback Roman Gabriel was knocked silly in the first quarter and didn't function properly the remainder of the game.

IT IS CLEAR LA was deprived of a down at the end of the contest, although I doubt if it would have changed the game's outcome.

With three seconds left and a field goal attempt from their own 43-yard line, a seemingly impossible feat, the Rams had no alternative but to toss a long pass. And with the Bears employing a prevent defense, it is improbable that they would have scored the winning points.

Chicago's victory proved that desire and enthusiasm can topple any club, including one that had only lost once going into the contest.

If it's true a team learns more from close games, then NU Coach Joe Cipriano's basketball team learned a lot from a 94-92 triple overtime win Tuesday night over Wichita State at the Coliseum.

Nebraska's hair-breadth triumph was the first Husker win over the Shockers in four meetings. In fact, Nebraska hasn't lost to a non Big-Eight team in Lincoln since the 1963-64 season. I hope the trend continues ad infinitum.

A man's razor isn't made for a woman's body.

A woman's body needs a woman's shaver. A Lady Norelco 15L.

A shaver that's comfortable for a woman.

A shaver that has two shaving edges. One for legs and one for underarms.

A shaver that shaves underarms as close or closer than a blade in 2 out of 3 shaves as tested in an independent laboratory. (As does the Beauty Sachet 25L5 on the right.)

The Beauty Sachet 25L5 is just like a beauty salon.

It manicures, pedicures, massages, applies facial creams, buffs and files nails, and stimulates your scalp and muscles.

But in another way, it's more than a beauty parlor.

It also shaves your legs and underarms.

- You sure are my kind of folksinger, Fran.
- You think maybe you and me could, uh, possibly...
"Oh, a lonely minstrel I'm meant to be..."
- I've always admired you.
"Forever to roam is my destiny..."
- And I was hoping that perhaps, somehow, the feeling might be mutual.
"A-singin' my song to humanity..."
- But I guess you're just too wrapped up with your music.
"Alone, yes, alone constantly..."
