

World record-breaking K-S to face Huskers

A meet which Husker coach Frank Sevine terms his toughest at Nebraska highlights this weekend's sports schedule which finds all teams in action.

NU's dual track meet with highly-rated Kansas State beginning 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the East Stadium could be "one of the most competitive," Sevine said.

Huskers have not won since 1953.

NU Coach John Reta's swimming team meets Colorado, and the Air Force Academy in a Saturday afternoon double duel at the Air Force Academy.

Husker Coach Orval Borgianni's wrestling squad travels to Columbia Friday night for a duel meet with Missouri and then heads west to Manhattan facing Kansas State University.

NEBRASKA OPENED last week with a convincing 106 points over Southern Illinois (29) and South Dakota State (6) as Greg Carlberg set a school record with a 4:10 clocking in the mile. Sophomore Jim Lang also set a NU peak with a 9:10.7 two-mile.

With two straight league wins in the Coliseum behind them, NU's basketballers meet surging Colorado at Boulder's Fieldhouse, where the

Cipriano dispells speculation about future

"I'm only interested in this club right now and at present I'm only getting ready for our game Saturday night with Colorado."

With that Nebraska basketball coach Joe Cipriano explained his views of the recent speculation concerning his consideration for the head basketball coaching post at Northwestern University.

Rumors began Monday following the resignation of coach Larry Glass from the Evanston, Ill., school, the Big Ten's lone private school. A wire service story said Tuesday that Cipriano was among the front-runners for the job.

Northwestern's athletic director is Tippy Dye, who was once Cipriano's basketball coach at Washington and until two years ago, was Cipriano's athletic director at the University. Dye hired Cipriano in 1963 to rebuild the struggling Husker cage program.

After two rebuilding years, Cipriano guided NU to a 20-5 mark — its best season in 45 years in 1965-66 and since then NU teams have finished 16-9 and 15-10. This year's squad stands 9-9 with 8 matches left.

Looking ahead to Colorado, Cipriano said Buff leading scorers Cliff Meely, the Big Eight's top scorer with a 23.7 average and Gordon Tope with an 11.5 pace, are both all-league caliber players who will give NU trouble.

He credited Huskers Marvin Stewart and Tom Scantlebury with improved performances that has enabled NU to capture its last two Big Eight games.

Coach Bill Harrell's freshman team seeks its sixth victory Saturday against Kansas State at Manhattan.

Remarks

by Mark Gordon
Sports Editor

High school athletes are not the hardened professionals who can shrug off crushing 60-point losses like 20-year veterans of professional sports.

Neither should high schools be interested in punishing their opponents simply to become highly-rated in the mythical high school sports ratings conducted by Nebraska's two largest newspapers. When high school teams are solely interested in running scores up, either a replacement in coaching staffs or a realignment of coaching philosophy should be considered.

TAKE WASAU'S Class C basketball Vikings who scored more than 90 points in seven of their first 10 games when they went 9-1. Included were romps such as by 85 points over Verdigris 124-39, 80 points over Winside 129-49 and 70 points over Hartington 112-42.

When high school teams fail to hold the score down and consistently tumble foes by lopsided totals, it is inconceivable why high school coaches allow such humiliations. We realize Wasau is in a class by itself among inferior teams, but even Ohio State University with former super-stars Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek never slaughtered teams by 85 points.

This is not the play-for-pay game when scoring figures determine the amount of food players eat.

TO ELIMINATE bush league teams like Wasau from running up the scores we would like to see high-school games end whenever one club leads by 50 points. When one team has a 50-point cushion, the game for all practical purposes is over, so why continue?

ENTRIES — Entries for teams in the intramural archery tournament are due by 5 p.m. Monday in 102 Men's Physical Education Building. Qualifying rounds will be held Feb. 24 on the Coliseum state, according to Ray Chatfield, intramural manager.

The concert will be in the Abel-Sandoz snack bar. Everyone is welcome.

Do you think a bright young engineer should spend his most imaginative years on the same assignment?

Neither do we.

That's why we have a two-year Rotation Program for graduating engineers who would prefer to explore several technical areas. And that's why many of our areas are organized by function—rather than by project.

At Hughes, you might work on spacecraft, communications satellites and/or tactical missiles during your first two years.

All you need is an EE, ME or Physics degree and talent.

If you qualify, we'll arrange for you to work on several different assignments...and you can help pick them.

You may select specialized jobs, or broad systems-type jobs. Or you can choose not to change assignments if you'd rather develop in-depth skills in one area.

Either way, we think you'll like the Hughes approach.

It means you'll become more versatile in a shorter time.

(And your salary will show it.)
