

Fraternities freed by Faculty in members

Easton, Pa. (I.P.) — Lafayette's faculty has voted that college fraternities on this campus free themselves from national regulations regarding selection. The faculty sought to allow the fraternities autonomy in establishing new membership selection procedures and not merely substitute its set of rules for national regulations.

An investigation into the membership selection procedures used by social living groups here was conducted by the faculty subcommittee on discrimination in student organizations.

"The resolutions approved by the faculty are designed to provide freedom to fraternities in selecting new members and fairness in the selection procedures," according to Dean of Students Herman C. Kissiah.

"The resolutions should not be viewed as unilateral action by the faculty," Dean Kissiah added. "There has been discussion and consultation with the Interfraternity Council and representative members of the Board of Trustees, alumni and the student body throughout the committee's study.

Resolutions approved by the faculty include:

"... effective Oct. 1, 1969, each social living group shall choose its members solely by vote of its active members, free from control, recommendation or regulation by any National organization, and shall establish its own policies and procedures for selection of its members as long as these do not conflict with College regulations.

"... that membership selection procedures in social living groups which require a unanimous or near unanimous vote are unacceptable; that each... group shall establish... procedure which has the objective of including those preferred by most members rather than excluding those unacceptable to a few..." A Nov. 1 deadline was set on the second resolution.

In six fraternities the national regulation is liberal and usually requires only that a member be elected from the male undergraduate student body by a procedure established in the local chapter. The other 12 fraternities have national voting regulations that are more restrictive.

The committee reported that in most Lafayette fraternities one to three votes can prevent an individual from either being pledged or initiated, even though a substantial majority might want him as a member.

Dr. Olson organizes intercollegiate debate

The first meeting of Intercollegiate Debate will be held Thursday, 7:30 p.m., in room 103 C of the Temple Building.

Dr. Donald Olson, advisor, encourages all interested students to attend this organizational meeting and emphasizes that experience in debating is not necessary.

Dr. Olson also notes that debators would be expected to practice at least once a week or twice a week if planning to attend a tournament.

Film series 'renovated,' will show nine first-runs

The series of films sponsored by the Nebraska Union has been greatly renovated this year, according to Union film chairman Tom Lonnquist.

He explained that the week-end film series has had an average attendance of 12 in the past few years. This year the committee has secured nine first run movies and nine film classics, he said.

"The nine old films signify six decades of film making," Lonnquist continued. They are all award winners and contain the best actors of their day, he added.

Such actors as Buster Keaton, Alan Ladd, Lionel Barrymore, and Freddie Bartholomew are featured. "These

Jazz concert starts Friday

Friday's annual fall jazz concert, sponsored by the Nebraska Union Music Committee, will feature the Bobby Hutcherson — Harold Land Quintet on the north mall of Love Library.

The Quintet recently returned from an overseas tour of all the major summer festivals as well as making radio and television appearances in Sweden and Holland. The journey aboard is helping change the group image from that of a collection of sidemen with a star leader to that of a quintet with a unique direction and style.

The winner of the 1964 Down Beat International Critics' poll for "Talent Deserving of Wider Recognition," Hutcherson became a professional violinist at the age of 15. He toured with many different groups before finally recording as a leader with tenor-saxophonist Harold Land.

Hutcherson has four LP's to his credit as a leader, along with 29 records as a sideman. His first LP, "Dialogue," was an exercise in improvisation with Latin rhythms.

"Components" consisted of two albums, one featuring Hutcherson as composer and soloist, the other emphasizing "serious" music overtones combined with free improvisation. "Happenings" revealed the jazz-chamber music element of the group, while "Stick-up," the latest release, is more aggressive music.

Hutcherson and Land, along with Stanley Cowell on piano, Herbie Lewis on bass and Joe Chambers on drums, will appear on Friday at 3:30 p.m.

Teacher exams scheduled

University seniors preparing to teach school may take the National Teachers Examinations (NTE) on November 8, 1969, January 31, April 4, or July 18, 1970.

The test is optional for University students, according to Lee DeJonge, director of Teacher Placement. However, many cities require the NTE for certification or licensing of teachers. A few examples cited by DeJonge include: Boston, Mass.; Chicago, Ill.; St. Louis, Mo.; and New York City, N.Y.

The school systems and state departments of education which require the NTE are designated in the Bulletin of Information, which is available at 101 Teachers College.

The University of Nebraska is designated as a testing center for April 4 and July 18. Candidates may take the test on the Nebraska campus on November 8 or January 31 by special request.

are actors you can't see downtown", Lonnquist commented.

The week-end series also features two groups of student underground films.

Films will be shown at 7 and p.m. Friday and Saturday at the city Union and at the East Campus Union at 7 p.m. Sunday. Cost is 50 cents with University ID.

The Union Foreign Film Series also features excellent films, Lonnquist continued. Offerings are more diverse this year including comedies, musicals, dramas, and documentaries. These films are from a large variety of countries, he said.

All films are contracted for and there should be a minimum of cancellations, he added.

Tickets are currently on sale in the Union. Prices are $8.16 for students, faculty, and staff; $11.22 for those not connected with the University.

Lonnquist said a free showing of the first film, "Hugs and Kisses" will be held for Freshmen at the Nebraska Theater, 4 p.m., October 1.

The committee is also sponsoring the film "Genesis I" in cooperation with Sheldon Gallery, December 9-10. This is a two hour selection of student films picked from a field of over 800 hours, Lonnquist added.

The committee also hopes to show the National Student Association film, "No Vietnamese Ever Called Me Nigger" sometime this fall.
