Husker Leroy Chalk (partially hidden) gets the jump on Duquesne Center Barry Nelson. The rest of the Nebraska team followed Chalk's pace with an 82-77 win Tuesday night. Nebraska's next home encounter is Northern Michigan University Monday night.

Moslems meet

The Islamic Association of the University of Nebraska has elected an executive committee for 1969-70. The executives are: Rasheed Azzam (Egypt), president; Taj A. Khan (India), vice-president; Mrs. Matin Fatima (Pakistan), secretary; and Mohammed Alyas (Hong Kong), treasurer.

There are 59 Moslem students on campus from 15 different countries. The association plans to affiliate with the Moslem Students' Association of the United States and Canada.

An "EID" prayer is scheduled for Thursday at 8 a.m. at the School of Religion and the dinner is scheduled for Saturday at the Wesley foundation.

The association has started a regular Friday prayer at the School of Religion, 1237 R. St. at 12:30 p.m.

Med interviews

Students who have applied to Washington University School of Medicine (St. Louis) must sign up in Room 231 of the Nebraska Union for interviews Wednesday. Others who are interested in attending may also sign up in the times remaining.

The program, sponsored by the Tri-University Project, will provide tutoring services for both the Lincoln and Omaha areas. All interested students are encouraged to attend.

'Can-Do' planned

The Interfraternity Pledge Class Council (IFPC) will sponsor a canned food drive, called "Operation Can-Do", on Sunday from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. The food that is collected will be distributed in the Lincoln area.

IFPC is a coordinating organization to help stimulate fraternity pledge action. All fraternity pledges will participate in the Sunday drive.

"I know the way home
with my eyes closed."

Then you know the way too well,
Because driving an old familiar route can make you drowsy, even if you've had plenty of sleep.
If that happens on your way home
for Christmas, pull over, take a break and take two NoDoz®. It'll help you drive home with your eyes open.

NoDoz. No car should be without it.

Action Line: Sun Bowl parking, coeds

area three at 17th and Y. Fortunately this area has many bottomless pits filled with mud and water which newer cars cannot negotiate and this assures me of finding a parking space quite easily. Who can I thank for this convenience?

NU Action Line:
The University's Department of Grounds is responsible for the maintenance of automobile parking areas. This responsibility includes physical upkeep of the lots such as the removal of snow and filling in holes.

Why did the Nebraska football team turn down a bid from the Liberty Bowl and accept an invitation to play in the Sun Bowl? Doesn't the Liberty Bowl guarantee the participating teams more money than the Sun Bowl?

NU Action Line:

Nebraska received bids from the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Texas; the Liberty Bowl in Memphis, Tenn., and the Peach Bowl in Atlanta, Ga.

The selection of the bowl Nebraska would go to was made by team players. Only first string offensive and defensive players, seniors and the head student manager voted. Since both the Liberty and the Sun Bowls are on national television the players wanted to play in El Paso more than Memphis.

The Liberty Bowl guarantees participating teams $160,000 each while the Sun Bowl has guaranteed Nebraska $80,000.

What is the desk that is being constructed on the first floor of Love Library going to be used for?

NU Action Line:
The desk will soon become the library's new loan desk. The loan desk currently used is located on the second floor.

The loan desk is being moved to increase convenience for library users and to disperse traffic throughout the library. When the new desk is in operation, library traffic will be controlled by turnstiles on the first floor.

What is the male female ratio at the University?

NU Action Line:
This semester the ratio is about 65 per cent male to 35 per cent female. However, this is the first fall semester in a number of years that the proportion of women in the total enrollment has failed to show an increase.

The student body at the Lincoln Campus is about two and one-half times larger than it was in 1959, but the number of women students has more than tripled.

New social, political, religious philosophies confront frosh

"When they were seniors in high school, they might have had what they thought was a solid idea of what they wanted to be," he added. "But roughly two-thirds of all students will change their majors once, and better than one-third will change twice."

Trying to establish themselves as independent individuals is a large part of the adjustment freshmen must make.

Living away from home for the first time, gaining new responsibilities and finding themselves surrounded with strangers from a broad spectrum of places slows down many freshmen, according to some of the freshmen interviewed.

"In college you find yourself face to face with so many things you have never had to face before," said a freshman boy from Omaha. "I came from a large school, but I now find myself faced with different social, political and religious philosophies. My values are really being put to an in depth examination."

"While there is a larger number of people here," Brown said, "it can be a lonely group situation."

It becomes harder to step out and meet people and get involved in things, he added. "Many students come here who have been leaders and successful in high school. It's harder for them to identify and move into things they feel are worthwhile here."

Finding meaningful involvement, finding something that turns them on, not just once, but continually, can be a solution to a great deal of the problems freshmen have, Brown said.

Profs may pick up evaluation packets

The ASUN Faculty Evaluations Committee has announced that professors will be able to pick up packets of questionnaires from their department offices by Tues. This will enable the professors to begin evaluating earlier than had previously been anticipated.

Class call numbers will be written on the labels of the packets and instructions on how to evaluate are inside.

"Black men trembled
when white ladies spoke."

If you think
You have inherited a world
Of war, poverty, injustice and prejudice,
Consider for a moment the world
Your fathers and theirs inherited.
Black boots goose-stepped across Europe,
Bringing the bloodiest war known to history.
Hunger and despair hung heavy in every home.
Beggars shuffled the streets.
Headlines and soup kitchens stretched
From New York to Los Angeles.
Little children labored from dawn to dusk in sweat shops.
Miners, striking for minimum safety standards,
Were mowed down by bullets.
Black men trembled when white ladies spoke.
And lynchings were an acceptable form of mass entertainment.
One third of our nation was ill-housed, ill-fed, ill-clothed.
This was the world that was dumped on your fathers.
Those who rolled up their sleeves in those days
Had but one thought in mind:
To make something better
For themselves, for you, for the country.
And they made it better.
Not perfect, God knows, but better.
When your sons take over, may it be said
You did as much.
You. Our life insurance.
