

Mortar Boards?

They sure as hell aren't Innocents

Emmett Kelly may not know it but a chapter of the Youth International Party (Yippies) has formed at the University of Nebraska.

According to a member of the Yippie group, the Emmett Kelly Memorial Chapter was formed Sunday morning at 3:30. The charter members are Phil Medcalf, Chris Matthews, Dan Ladely and Allen Siporin.

At the initial meeting the Yippies drew up an 11.5 pro-really hard to tell this far in advance."

Thus far about thirty numbers a month have been called. Liggett said this would probably slow down when many seniors graduate from college in June.

If a man's number has already been passed before he loses his deferment, he will be at the top of his board's list when he does lose it, Liggett said.

"Each month a board is filling its call it goes back to number one and inducts those men who have lost their deferments," he added.

He said that the pool of available men is constantly changing as men gain or lose deferments. A man can enlist in a regular armed forces unit up to the time he is actually inducted, he added.

SINCE MEN who enlist come from the pool of draft eligible men, the board is given credit for them and its next call is proportionately lower, he said.

Liggett said he was pleased with the way the lottery has been going. Though there was a great deal of public confusion in the early months of the system, it has caused no great crisis, he added.

gram outlining their goals. The first point of their doctrine is titled "surrealism." In it the Yippies "espouse a doctrine of open-endedly creative "wet-rag" intellectualism.

When asked to explain this statement, Phil Medcalf replied that it was "transcendentally inexplicable."

The second point of the Yippies program deals with "black liberation and institutional racism." The local Yippies feel "black people in this country are exploited as a caste and not as a class."

Therefore they concur with the goals of black revolutionaries to free fellow blacks from the "institutionalized racism of modern corporate capitalism." When asked to elaborate on this point Allen Siporin said, "Loosen the great white vice!"

The Yippies believe that education should be subversive in that it should be a de-ethnocentrizing process. "Education ought to be the enhancement of festivity and fantasy not its denegation," they said. To accomplish this goal they intend to create "alternative, celebrative forms of education" through such methods as free schools.

Another point of the Yippie policy statement concerns economics. The Yippies demand an "egalitarian, economical system based on the needs of the working masses." As Siporin phrased it, "We don't want to clean up the garbage of the world. We want to distribute it equally!"

Medical test deadline April 1

Deadline for students who plan to take the Medical College Admission Test is April 1, according to Paul A. Landolt, coordinator of premedical advisors.

All accredited medical schools in the United States and Canada require their applicants to take the test, Landolt said.

The test will be given on May 2. Application forms can be obtained from pre-medical advisors, or from Landolt in Room 440, Oldfather Hall.
