

ASUN elections

Six candidates disqualified

Six ASUN candidates, including one presidential candidate, have been disqualified for the April 22 ASUN elections.

The six disqualifications lower the number of ASUN candidates to 147. All six students were disqualified for failing to attend or be represented at a mandatory orientation meeting last March, according to ASUN Electoral Commissioner Glenn Nees.

Dennis Bloom of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity was disqualified as a presidential candidate. Bloom's disqualification leaves five students in the ASUN presidential race.

The other disqualified candidates include:

—Roger Anderson, a first vice presidential candidate.

—Scott Moore and Michael Richardson, Arts & Sciences senatorial candidates.

—Rick Windle, an Engineering and Architecture senatorial candidate. Windle, however, is appealing his disqualification to the Electoral Commission.

—Lorenz Steinhoff, an Agriculture Advisory Board candidate.

Nees said Tuesday that the names of four parties will appear on the election ballots. The parties and their presidential candidates are: New University, Randy Prier; Service Party, Ken Wald; University Coalition, Steve Tiwald; and Youth International Party, Alan Siporin.

Only ten out of the 79 senatorial candidates are not affiliated with a party. However, only a few advisory board candidates are affiliated with a party according to Nees.

Nees said that unlike previous year there will be only one balloting place on the City Campus — a rented tent that will be placed on the closed portion of 14th Street.

Voting on East Campus will be held at the East Union. After 5:30 p.m. on election day, all voting for both campuses will be held at the Nebraska Union.

Nees also said that any ASUN candidate wishing to withdraw their name from the ballot should contact the ASUN office by Thursday.

Miss NU semifinalists

Eleven coeds have been chosen as semifinalists in the 1970 Miss University of Nebraska pageant.

Miss University of Nebraska will be selected April 19 at 8 p.m., in the Nebraska Union ballroom, according to Cindy Vondrak, pageant chairman.

Semifinalists are Laurie

Brehm, Patricia Campbell, Priscilla Chain, Catherine Cherry, Becky Knipe, Diane Koltes, Nancy Martens, Bonnie Naughten, Mary Ann Suess, Linda Thurber and Susan Vakiner. The preliminaries were March 15.

The winner will compete in the Miss Nebraska pageant.
