

Dribbles from Chairman N

Former President Milhaus will address all fellow Americans this evening on all your favorite elitist national television networks and interest-conflicting radio stations.

Informed White House sources conjecture that the President will apologize to the American public for the tragic coup that befell this wonderful, great, fantastic country of ours over the weekend.

Acting President Leonid Brezhnev is also expected to apologize for subversively unplugging the switch to all U.S. nuclear armour.

Milhaus is expected to apologize for not having any American troops available to defend the beautiful shores of the this once great land of ours.

"I thought we would be safe with our troops stationed everywhere else but on our shores," Milhaus allegedly said with tears flowing from his eyes while he petted his last two friends on the earth, Pat and Checkers.

Acting vice president Spiro said in a press conference Sun. that he had never said that he would rather be dead than red. "That is nonsense," Spiro vehemently shouted.

"Actually, Lenny is a pretty nice guy," Spiro told newsmen.

Spiro said that top priorities include deportation of Milhaus to his beloved resort areas of Parrot's Beak and Fishhook, Cambodia.

Let them drink water

Union drink prices have been raised $1.35.

New prices of $1.50 on regular drinks and $2.00 on large drinks will go into effect September 1, according to Candy Uningham, Union Board President.

"We were one of the last places in town with prices this low," Uningham said. "A fifteen cent drink costs the Union just slightly less than that to serve. We have to make a profit somewhere, just to keep going."

He said the Union staff recommended the price hike at a recent Board meeting. "We were not coerced," he said.

"But, we were faced with the alternative of raising prices or discontinuing most of the Union's services to students."

The Board president said he hoped prices will remain stable during the 70-71 year.

Union director Ill Bentit was not available for comment from his Bimini Island retreat.
