

About the Union Board

by ANDY CUNNINGHAM

The Nebraska Union Board is the governing and policy-making body for the Nebraska Union and the East Union. It derives its authority from a governing code approved by the Board of Regents.

"As the governing body of the Nebraska Union, the Union Board dedicates itself to the goal of creating an educational environment through the use of its resources.

SPECIFICALLY, the board seeks to provide services, facilities and programs that will enhance and advance a total learning experience for the entire University family.

"Recognizing also that students bring to the campus a variety of interests and can be expected to develop new interests as members of the academic community, the board seeks to provide guidance and support to individual student interests, with emphasis on benefits gained from organizational activity."

THE BOARD implements these philosophies through programing and house services.

"The scope of Union programing represents the broadest interaction of student extracurricular needs and interests. The Union Board has charged a program council with the function of programing for educationa, recreational, cultural and social needs.

THE UNION PROGRAM Council provides, within its capabilities, a facilitating and implementing service to any student or group of students seeking assistance in the presentation of their programs.

"In its establishment of and in its continued reliance on a program council, the board believes that students' needs can best be determined by students specifically assigned a programing function."

THE HOUSE services function is divided into two categories: 1) fee-supported administrative and housekeeping services and 2) income-producing retail sales departments.

The fee supported services are designed to "serve through common-use facilities the needs of student organizations in their service to the campus."

Specifically, this category provides for "student offices, student meeting rooms, lounges, music listening areas, restrooms, halls and storage place, along with the personnel required to keep these areas operating efficiently for the maximum hours weekly and the maximum number of days per year."

THE INCOME-PRODUCING retail business services are designed "to provide for service in the areas of food, recreation and general notions-type merchandise the highest possible standards of product quality and service during the maximum number of hours daily for the maximum number of days per year." They are also designed "to be self-sustaining, self-liquidating and essentially non-profit."

The board hears appeals on all complaints about space allocation, services or programing after these have gone to the Union management or to the program council, respectively.

THE MEMBERSHIP of the board consists of nine students, three faculty, and the Union director. Of the nine student members, three are selected by the city program council from its membership, one by the East Union program council from its membership and three by ASUN. The two additional student positions are available to any member of the student body at large, excluding the program councils and their agencies and ASUN and its agencies.

The board plans to meet every two weeks in the Union, tentatively on Thursdays at 4:30 p.m. All meetings are open to the public. Students seeking further information about the board and its meetings, or wishing to place items on the meeting agenda, should contact Gail Campbell, secretary of the board, Pound Hall 1117, 477-9271, or Mrs. Carol De Vere, Union staff secretary attached to the board, Room 200, Nebraska Union.

THE 1970 UNION BOARD members include: Students — Andrew Cunningham, President; Gregory Martin, Vice-president; Gail Campbell, Secretary; Bacchitar Singh; Ronald Alexander; H. David Heumann; Kerry Winterer; Dennis Berkheim. (Note: ASUN is in the process of interviewing for one if its seats on the board).

Faculty — Dr. James Horner, Dr. George Holdren, Dean John Janovy, Jr. Nebraska Union Director — Allen H. Bennett.

Union Program Council Vice-President Roni Haggart is one of dozens of University students whose efforts have given life to Union programs.

Union features cultural events

Music

Musical tastes vary. So do Union-sponsored concerts.

For inexpensive entertainment that "gets people involved," try the Coffee House Concert series. Chairman Chris McElroy described the series as "just good entertainment in a relaxed atmosphere for only 75 cents."

The Coffee House series includes:

—October 15, 16 — Bittersweet, folk and folk-rock singers.

—November 19, 20 — Fats and Dave, music and comedy duo.

—February 4, 5 — Chuck Mitchell, cabaret folk singer.

—April 22, 23 — Chet Nichols, guitarist, composer and singer.

Mel Rogers, jazz and java project chairman, emphasized that concerts sponsored by his committee can be "good advertising for almost any band and a fun social hour for students."

Group interested in playing for a jazz and java concert should contact Rogers at the Union Program Office.

Larger concerts, such as last week's Byrds and Flying Burrito Brothers appearance, are also sponsored by the Union. More concerts of this nature are being planned by Steve Cobb's concert committee.

Drama

A recently established Union committee is devoted to drama.

Project chairman Carol Evans emphasized that her committee's goal is to broaden students' cultural opportunities by providing experimental and lab theater productions for students to see conveniently and at minimum costs.

Miss Evans noted that in addition to theater productions, her committee may plan a series of seminars on various aspects of theater.

Library

Students who would like a work of art to decorate their dorm room or new records to try but not buy can take advantage of the Union Music and Art Lending Library.

NU students can check out records for two weeks and pictures for the entire year. Beginning next week, the library will be open on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays over the noon hour and after 3:30 p.m.

Grethen Davis, project chairman, said her committee's allocation of student fee money is being used to fill the library with a variety of records and works of art.

Union image

The image of the Nebraska Union is a special concern of two Union project committees.

The public relations committee, headed by Gary Kuklin, is responsible for organizing Union Week and handling a variety of surveys to determine interest in Union programs.

Pat Novotny, hostesses chairman, said her committee is particularly busy on football Saturdays.

Serving as guides and "question answers," the hostesses are responsible for making guests at the Union feel welcome and showing them the variety of facilities which have been made available through student fees.

Even if bowling isn't down your alley, you'll probably find the Union recreation committee has another sport or game you will enjoy. Recreation chairman Joann Tansey said she hopes to involve as many students as possible in the various Union-sponsored games. Tournaments are planned in billiards, bowling, bridge, chess and table tennis. Tentative plans for archery and skeet shooting tournaments are also being made. "We hope enough people participate to have both men's and women's divisions in each of these areas," Miss Tansey said.
