Results of the referendum, however, are to be used by the Board of Regents in only an advisory way; the vote will have no official effect.

However the results of the referendum on the low-income scholarship program will be binding. The Board of Regents at a recent meeting promised to implement the program chosen by students in the Spring Election.

The Regents Committee Plan for low income scholarships, which would allow each student to pay an additional $3.50 for low income scholarship on his tuition and fees payment if the student so chooses, was leading narrowly over the PACE Committee Plan, which would allow students to have the $3.50 returned only if they specifically requested.

The Joint Treaty of Peace, between the people of the United States and the people of South Vietnam and North Vietnam was approved.

The treaty, which is being voted on and generally approved in university spring student elections around the country, has no official affect nor binds ASUN or university students to any action. Briefly, it calls for an end to the Vietnam War as soon as possible.

GSA requests new representatives

The Graduate Student Association has requested that all university departmental GSA's elect new representatives to the University-wide GSA.

These new representatives should be graduate students who will return to the University next fall. Names of new representatives should be sent to the graduate office so that they may be informed of the next University GSA meeting to be held in about three weeks.
