

Reading courses registration delayed

Registration for the 1971 summer reading courses offered by the University Extension Division has been delayed until May 10.

The delay will give students an opportunity to attend the spring instructional meeting for each course prior to registering for the course.

Students may register for the summer reading courses beginning May 10 at the Extension Division Office, 511 Nebraska Hall.

Union committee interviews Tuesday

Interviews will be Tuesday beginning at 6 p.m. for chairmen for next year's Union Program Committees. Students can sign up for the recreation, drama, black activities, and style show committee interviews in the Program Office, 128 Nebraska Union.

Groovy Gifts for Grabby Grads

Yes, I know how busy you are—craming for finals, deciphering your notes, helping old grads find their dentures after Class Day—but let me interrupt your manifold activities—craming for finals, deciphering your notes, searching for meat in the dormitory stew—to remind you that Commencement Day is almost upon us, and it's high time you started shopping for presents to give your friends who are graduating. So pause a moment in your busy schedule—craming for finals, deciphering your notes, raising bail—to look over this list of charming gift suggestions.

We will start with the hardest gift problem of all: what do you give the person who has everything? Well sir, here are some gifts I promise you he does not have:

1. A low hurdle.
2. A street map of Perth, Australia.
3. Fifty pounds of goose fat.
4. A supply of Miller High Life Beer.

"What?" you exclaim, your young eyebrows leaping in perpendicular incredulity. "The person who has everything does not have a supply of Miller High Life Beer?" you rasp, your young lips curling in horizontal derision. "What arrant nonsense!" you snarl, making a coarse gesture.

But I reply with an emphatic "No!" The person who has everything, I insist, does not have a supply of Miller High Life Beer—not for long anyhow—because if he is a person who enjoys a beer light but mellow, hearty but delicate, a beer that cloyts not, neither does it pall, a beer that is forever amber and forever ambrosia, a beer deliciously dependable and dependably delicious, a beer, in short, for all seasons—if, I say, he is a person who enjoys such a beer—and who does not? eh? who does not?—then he does not have a supply of Miller High Life. What he has is a supply of empty Miller cans and bottles and a thirst that could turn dangerous if neglected.

So of course we will give all our graduating friends plenty of Miller High Life. And if you're looking for some additional gifts, too, here are more suggestions:

For someone graduating with a degree in American history, how about a hand-blown jade figurine of Millard Fillmore with a clock in the stomach? (Mr. Fillmore, incidentally, was the only American president with a clock in his stomach. It's true of course that James K. Polk had a stem-winder in his head and Chester A. Arthur, as you know, chimed on the quarter-hour, but only Mr. Fillmore of all our chief executives had a clock in his stomach. To be sure, Franklin Pierce had a sweep second hand and Zachary Taylor ticked and Martin Van Buren had a Swiss movement but, I repeat, Mr. Fillmore and Mr. Fillmore alone had a clock in his stomach. Moreover, Mr. Fillmore was the first president with power steering. Small wonder they called him "Old Hickory!")

But I digress. Returning to Graduation gifts, here is another that is sure to please—a gift certificate from the American Society of Chiropractors. Accompanying each certificate is this enchanting little poem:

*Is your tailbone now a failbone?
Has your sacrum been dislodged?
Are you hating vertebrating?
Come right in and get massaged.*

*Is your lumbar growing number?
Has your pelvis run aground?
Does your caudal tend to dawdle?
Come right in and let us pound.*

Finally, if you have a music-loving friend, how about a personal portable radio that plugs right into his ear? Next year you can give him a little pick to dig the plug out.

When the excitement of Commencement is over, we, the brewers of Miller Beer, have what seems to us a fine suggestion: sit down for a peaceful moment and relax with a glass of Miller. If you've got the time, we've got the beer.
