

Mary Dean shows off the volunteer van which was purchased last spring through the student Volunteer Bureau.

Volunteer Bureau asks help

In its second year of existence, the Student Volunteer Bureau is looking for help.

The Bureau, operating with student activity funds, is a central office to coordinate volunteer programs at UNL according to its director Mary Dean.

Its call for help is directed towards Student Action Front, University 4H, University Y, and other agencies in need of volunteers.

"There are a lot of wants that students don't know need to be met," said Dean. Among them are the Big Sister and Big Brother programs. These programs are directed toward personal communication between students and low income families in a one-to-one relationship intended to ease community problems.

Volunteers are also needed in hostels operated by the Lancaster Office for the Mentally Retarded to help those in the transition stage to a more worthwhile life.

The Looking Glass Drug Program contacted the UNL Bureau on the third floor of the Nebraska Union for ex-users to work in a 24-hour drug referral program.

The Lincoln Action Program, too, is looking for volunteers to work for tenants rights.
