low-income whites, he said.

IF THE $33,000 is correct, the extra money will be used to improve the aid packages already awarded under PACE, Lundak said. The extra funds will be used to increase awards and to supplement loans if the student's work load is too high, he added.

The PACE money this semester will be added to the $3,500 contributed by second session summer students, Pedersen said.

The PACE committee is asking for contributions from businessmen and will seek a greater commitment from the state, she said, since student funds can't help all 722 low-income students registered this semester.

A FACULTY FUND drive will begin in November with a letter from NU Pres. D. B. Varner and interim Chancellor C. Peter Magrath urging personnel to contribute, Pedersen said.

A statement from ASUN asking faculty to contribute on a payroll deduction plan will be sent in December, she said.

The PACE plan was approved by the Board of Regents on a one-year trial basis, Pedersen said. However, the "very, very good showing" this fall indicates that the committee can justly ask for a continuation of the program, she said.

East of 17th Street between R and Vine a recreational area is being developed to provide facilities for residents of Cather, Pound, Abel and Sandoz halls. The area includes four flag football fields, tennis courts, a basketball court and handball courts.

Recreation area construction continues

Construction is moving ahead on development of two recreation areas near City Campus residence halls at UNL.

The construction of the recreation areas is expected to be completed by late fall, with landscaping finished next spring.

One of the intramural recreation areas is being developed east on 17th Street between R and Vine, adjacent to the Cather, Pound, Abel and Sandoz residence halls. The other is south of the Harper Schramm and Smith residence complex between No. 14 and No. 16 streets.

Cost of constructing the recreation facilities will be about $328,994. The program is financed by accumulated student recreation fees collected over a period of several years a portion of 1966 revenue bonds for residence hall construction earmarked for recreation facilities.

The recreation area along No. 17 street will have eight tennis courts, a basketball court, four grassed areas to be used for flag football or soccer, and six outdoor handball

South of Harper-Schramm-Smith will be 10 tennis courts which can be converted for use for handball, badminton or shuffleboard; three artificially surfaced golf putting greens and a grasses area.

The overall development of both recreational areas also provides for walks, landscaping, grading, drainage and surfacing. Interim parking for about 350 cars is being provided at the south end of the 17th street area.

This recreational area, including facilities for tennis, basketball, badminton, handball, shuffleboard and golf putting greens, will serve students who live in the Smith-Harper-Schramm residence hall complex.
