

Ziebarth favors percentage wage increases

by Bill Smitherman

A recommendation of the Legislature's Budget and Appropriations Committee which has concerned University officials will probably be reconsidered before a final recommendation is made, according to State Sen. Wayne Ziebarth.

The senator said he was not in favor of a committee recommendation asking that salaries for all full-time state employees, including professors, be raised by a flat $300. He said he is in favor of percentage increases for some jobs.

His comments echoed those by NU President D.B. Varner and other NU officials that a flat rate increase could be discouraging to faculty members. NU's budget request called for a 5 per cent increase for professional University staff members and a $300 raise for non-professional employees.

Ziebarth agreed with this proposal and said he expects the committee to reconsider its decision before sending recommendations to the floor.

Speaking at the Delta Sigma Pi fraternity as part of a series sponsored by the ASUN Legislative Liaison Committee, Ziebarth asked the students if they feel they are getting what they are looking for at the University. The budget committee, he said, wants to know the reactions of the recipients of state money.

The senator, an announced candidate for the Democratic senate nomination, called UNL's Love Library

"frustrating and intolerable."

"I'm afraid that students aren't using the facility because it is too difficult," he said. "The physical facility is probably part of the problem, but it is only part."

The senator said he believes a better system of coordination between UNL libraries is as important as the physical facility. However, he said he expects a library addition to be approved by the Legislature this year.

Ziebarth said he also expects planning funds to be appropriated for a new law building. There is also a pressing need to consider plans for a life sciences building, he said.

In response to a question about low income housing the senator said he is concerned about housing in general. He added that the state should be responsible for replacing housing which its projects destroy. But he said he did not see this as possible in the near future.
