MUSICAL FINE ARTS

This newly created project is designed to fill a need regarding fine arts events. This aspect of cultural enrichment has been slighted in the past. Already planned is a concert by harpist-chordist Igor Kipnis. The project is open to new ideas--a large void to fill.

RECREATION

The new Recreation Chairman will be in charge of organizing activities with a recreational base, including bike races, car rallies, tournaments, etc. The possibilities are countless, the job is simple.

WORLD IN REVOLUTION

Responsible for making necessary arrangements for a World in Revolution Conference held in the spring semester. Responsibilities include choosing a theme for the conference and contracting guest speakers, involving all media possible.

Greeks plan food co-op

Two thousand men in University fraternities are uniting for a common cause--food.

Inter-Fraternity Council (IFC) President Howard Epstein said campus fraternities plan to be buying all their food together by next fall.

Epstein said he hopes that will mean food quality will go up while prices go down.

IFC, the governing body of most campus fraternities, has yet to clear the way with University officials, but Epstein said the council's "best possibility" is to add their food orders to that of UNL's.
