It seems that Pershing Auditorium is never going to become a dull place. As most of you probably know, the rock opera, Jesus Christ Superstar is making a return engagement to the auditorium on Wednesday at 8 p.m. And on Friday, a show billed as Lincoln's first all-English concert featuring Savoy Brown, Fleetwood Mac and John Baldry will be at the auditorium. The Filmore-style concert begins at 8 p.m.

Larry Knechtel, Mike Botts, James Griffin and David Gates comprise the superb Bread, who will be at the auditorium on Thursday, March 23. In case you don't know, Bread has several "small" songs, including "It Don't Matter to Me," "Make It With You," "If," and "Baby I'm-A Want You" to their credit.

Now for something you might not know about. The Allman Brothers Band is coming to the auditorium Monday, March 27. This is during spring vacation, but considering the quality of the group, you might want to stick around Lincoln until March 28.

April 7 finds the James Gang and Canned Heat at Pershing. Canned Heat has just recorded their first new album in almost two years. It's titled Historical Figures and Ancient Heads.

Also coming to Pershing sometime in April is Creedence Clearwater Revival.

The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial, a dramatization adapted by Herman Wouk from his Pulitzer Prize novel, will open at the Lincoln Community Playhouse Saturday, with additional performances on Sunday, March 19 and weekends through April 9.

And don't forget UNL's production of Child's Play at Howell Theatre, running the rest of this week.

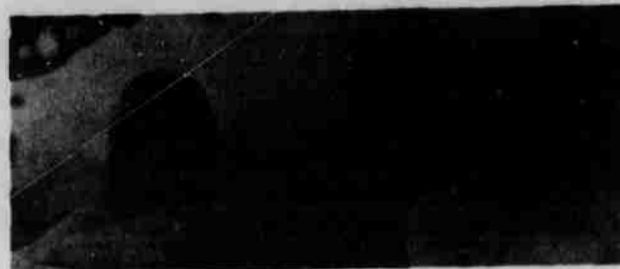

The Free Theatre has a couple of shows coming up again this week. The Black Art Players in connection with the Free Theatre will present A Black Sabbath Requiem on Friday and Saturday at 12 midnight in the Hungry Id, 640 N. 16th.

Directed by Jeff Otte, the play is a total environmental production, with music by Tom Bredenburg. Admission is free.

Keep Tightly Closed in a Cool Place, directed by Kathy Mickells will be the other Free Theatre production. This play will be presented Saturday and Sunday at 7 p.m. in the Nebraska Union South Crib and is also free.

"Between Time and Timbuktu--A Space Fantasy" by Kurt Vonnegut, Jr., will be aired over KUON, Channel 12, on Monday at 7 p.m. The show is a science fiction adventure tale incorporating the most imaginative episodes from several of Vonnegut's novels and short stories.
