We've invented the small sensible solid American car all over again.

1930 Model A Deluxe Coupe.

1972 Pinto 2-Door Sedan shown with optional white sidewall tires, and accent group.

When people shop for a small car, they look for some very simple basic values. Dependability. Economy of money and style. Good mileage and long life.

Those basics are our birthplace. The Model T, the Model A, the first mass produced station wagon -- name a basic idea, and chances are Ford built it.

Now to Ford Pinto. Pinto is as simple and solid a small car as there is in the world. And it's priced lower than the three leading imports; lower than its major U.S. competitor. Yet it has every basic modern necessity.

A gutsy little engine that gets the same economical kind of gas mileage as the little imports.

A solid-as-a-rock four speed transmission. Sports car steering. A welded steel body with six coats of paint.

Ball-joint front suspension, and a wide stable stance on the road. Pinto is one small car that doesn't have to fear a superhighway.

And finally, Pinto gives you comfortable interior leg and shoulder room -- yet it's only 1 1/2 inches longer than the leading little import.

See the Pinto at your Ford dealer's. It's 40 years newer than the Model A -- but it's still the same basic idea.

When you get back to basics, you get back to Ford.
