Wednesday's Daily Nebraskan published the graph above with statistical figures that were irrelevant in the context of this graph.

The corrected graph is a composite plotting of UNL enrollment and diagnosed cases of gonorrhea and pregnancy among UNL students.

The horizontal axis depicts each academic year from 1966 to the present. The number of diagnosed cases of gonorrhea and pregnancy can be read from the vertical axis on the extreme left of the graph. The other vertical axis shows UNL enrollment figures.

Take the trudging out of trudging in "CASTER"...an opened up leather sandal in white or brown, with a sole and heel of fake bark (even your dog wouldn't know). $14
