

Extension Division offers summer reading courses

About 50 Summer Reading Courses will be offered by University departments through the Extension Division this year, according to Edor Ellingson, coordinator of evening classes.

Each of the courses is for one to three hours of credit and a student may enroll for no more than two courses.

Students should attend one of the spring meetings for the summer reading courses which are being held during late April and early May. A complete schedule of the meetings is posted on bulletin boards, or is available from the Extension Division, 511 Nebraska Hall.

Registration for Summer Reading Courses opens May 1 and closes June 16. Registration can be done only at the Extension Division. Tuition for the courses is $20 per credit hour for Nebraska residents, and $21 per credit hour for non-resident students.

Tremain photo hits the big time

A photograph by Daily Nebraskan staff photographer Don Tremain graces the pages of the recent issue of Sports Illustrated.

Tremain's shot of world champion pole vaulter Kjell Isaksson's record-breaking 18'1" vault at a recent meet in Austin, Texas, was carried in the April 24 issue. Tremain was on assignment for the Nebraskan at the time.

A giant step backward!
This star-spangled extension is The Candlestick, first of the red hot phones.

Staging a roaring comeback from the Twenties, the Candlestick rings with memories of the Charleston, raccoon coats, the Spirit of St. Louis, tea dances and Clara Bow.

The Candlestick is the cat's pajamas and it's FUN to use—a real "speakeasy," so to speak.
