

daily nebraskan

friday, may 5, 1972
lincoln, nebraska vol. 95, no. 108

Goodbye
for the summer

A large black rectangular area covers the majority of the page, serving as a background for the text. In the lower center of this black area, there is a small, white silhouette of a person, possibly a child, standing with their back to the viewer. The overall composition is minimalist and evocative.