

Kriwet . . .

Ferdinand KRIWET, German film maker, writer and mixed media artist, spoke Tuesday to a group of UNL students and faculty members at the Andrews Hall Library.

KRIWET's works currently are being shown at Sheldon Art Gallery. He has presented exhibitions in Germany, Holland, Austria, France and the United States.

He told the group he attempts to involve the person seeing or listening to his work in the work itself. By doing so, he said, a person develops new perceptions of the world and can therefore look at its problems in a different light.

He is currently working on a radio text, Campaign '72, in which he said he is recording his perceptions of the presidential race. He said he is not reporting the campaign, but only trying to make a documentary about the contest for the German people.

KRIWET was sponsored by the Union Special Films Committee.

Some donuts are tastier than others. Fresher than others. And come in more flavors and forms than others. Like our donuts. They're just a "little more equal" in all these ways.
