ONLY A FEW WILL FLY IT. . .

BECAUSE ONLY A FEW WILL BE TRAINED TO.

And they will all be Navy trained. Naval aviators are a select breed of men. They weren't born with the ability to operate expensive aircraft. They started just like so many men in college today—wondering where to go, what to do. But when the chance came to train for their future in the Navy—they took it. And they made it to the top. See if you have what it takes to wear Navy Wings.

Now is your opportunity to take to a Navy man who wears his Wings of Gold with pride.
