

Cheer contest offers winner UCLA tickets

Members of Tassels and Corn Cobs, student pep organizations, will conduct a "Husker Cheer" contest this month to help head football coach Tom Osborne and the 1973 team get off to a good start.

The person who submits the winning "Husker Cheer" will receive a pair of tickets to the UCLA game Sept. 8. The prize tickets will be in the student pep section.

"When Bob Devaney came to Nebraska in 1962, someone coined the phrase, "Get off your fanny and help Bob Devaney," Mack Rasmussen, Corn Cobs pep rally committee chairman, said.

"We hope that the winning cheer in this contest, referring either to coach Osborne or the team, will become a regular feature at future football games," he added.

All cheers should be short and simple. Any football fan is eligible to enter. All entries must be received by Friday. They should be sent to: Husker Cheer Contest, c/o Corn Cobs and Tassels, Union.

Entries will be judged by the Pep Rally Committee. The winning author and cheer will be announced at the "World's Largest Pep Rally" at 4:30 p.m. Sept. 7, in Memorial Stadium. A portion of the pep rally will be televised by ABC-TV in connection with coverage of the UCLA-Nebraska game the next day.
