Gazette distribution challenge postponed

The Lincoln Board of Education has postponed a decision regarding an appeal of a Federal District Court injunction against the board which permits the Lincoln Gazette to distribute its publication on private property.

According to a story in the Lincoln Journal, Willis Hecht, legal counsel to the board, told the board Tuesday he would not be willing to carry the appeal forward unless there was a unanimous decision to do so.

"It needs to be an all or none decision and you need to plan to go all the way," Hecht said.

Reaction from board members centered on the principle involved in the loss of the right to govern what takes place on school property, weighed against the added publicity an appeal would give the newspaper.

"The Gazette's life is geared to the size of the stage it plays on," Ted Dewey, board member, said. He said he had not yet decided how to vote. Dewey predicted the Gazette "will have us back in court."

John Prasch, Lincoln superintendent of schools, said he has reversed his opinion in the past two weeks. At the last board meeting he said he believed the situation should not be dignified by "giving it a larger stage than it deserves. I believe we have more important things to do. But there's a principle involved here that asks the question, what control do we have? I'd like a better answer to that."

Dr. John Lux, board chairman, reminded the board that two principles are involved: the right of the board to govern school property and the right of the individual. "We have to weigh one against the other," he said.

According to the Journal Hecht said he believes the Gazette desires further confrontation and predicted that it is not a permanent publication.

He said Judge Warren Urbom's decision represents the majority of decisions coming out of federal courts, "but I don't agree with the majority."

The court order included a suspension to enable the defendant's to formulate regulations regarding the distribution of materials. Prasch said in spite of that 30-day restraint, the Gazette continues to distribute its publication on school property.

FREE UNIVERSITY ADDITIONAL COURSES

Are Eco-nuts?
Walt Bagley, Betsy Hancock, Bruce Kennedy
Wednesday, October 10, 7:30 p.m.
Sandoz Hall—South Lounge, 5th Floor
Interactions of people and resources. Selected topics of interest to students may include energy conservation, freedom from hunger, water for ? , endangered wildlife, pesticide predicament, and others which the students may select.

Committee For Open Media (COM)
Ron Kuttentbach
Sunday, October 14, 4:00 p.m.
2418 'Y' Street

This course would be an attempt to establish public access in the media of this community. Public access would involve the democratic opportunity for people to freely share their ideas and feelings on radio and television. Hopefully through community organizing and possibly organizing FCC license challenges we would have leverage with the stations.

Conversational Spanish
Patty Heiser
Tuesday, October 16, 7:00 p.m.
Centennial College—Commons Room
This will be a really informal course of strictly conversational Spanish. Anyone with even the most elementary knowledge of Spanish is invited to come and practice with us. The organizer of this course intends to serve as a facilitator of the discussion, not lecturer. Additional activities, such as making tortillas and/or Sangria, are also planned to add a little "flavor" to the course.

Straight Photography
John (Willie) McCarty
Monday, October 15, 8:00 p.m.
Centennial College—Commons Room
Developing and printing straight photographs with aesthetic considerations in mind.
Beginning Flute
April Erickson
Saturday, October 13, 2:30 p.m.
2218 Dudley St.

For people interested in learning how to play the flute. Starting from the very beginning. Help in finding a flute. Need to purchase music (about $11). 5 person limit—8 lessons.

Please come to the NFU office, room 338, Union or ASUN, room 334, Union to register.

Intellectuals & the Working Class
Bill Arth & Milton Yuan
Thursday, October 11, 7:00 p.m.
2820 'S' Street
A discussion of the relation between intellectuals and the working class.

Learning the Harmonica
Rich Rodenburg
Wednesday, October 10, 7:30 p.m.
Harper Hall—Main Lounge

I will be teaching the harmonica with special emphasis on boozie-woozie and blues. You must supply your own harp but I would rather everyone waits until the first meeting so everyone will have the same kind as far as key goes. I would like at least 4 people and not more than 10. The class will get it's own pace as far as material covered.

Lincoln Gazette
The Gazette Staff
Sunday, October 14, 6:30 p.m.
2820 'S' Street

This course would entail practical and theoretical involvement with the Lincoln Gazette. A wide variety of printing and publishing skills could be learned. The Gazette needs help. Helping could be learning.

Multi-Speed Bicycles
Joel Mowers
Thursday, October 11, 3:45-4:45 p.m.
Selleck Quadrangle—Multi-purpose Room (basement—main Selleck building)
Emphasis will be on 5-10-15 speed bikes. Areas to be discussed: general theory, frames, headsets, cranks, saddles, brakes, wheels, derailleurs, gearing, and accessories. Maintenance and minor repairs will be covered also.

Poverty in Rural Nebraska
Mergie Bisio, Bert Kollars
Sunday, October 14, 7:30 p.m.
Centennial College—Commons Room

Did you know that the incidence of poverty is greater in small towns and farm communities—rural America—than in urban ghettos? What has happened to the war on poverty? We intend to examine the above and attempt to defame the problem of under-employment, it's extent and implications in rural Nebraska. We plan to have discussion, speakers, and various reading materials.
