Despite the youth in the Jayhawk defensive secondary, Kansas is starting three sophomores and a senior, the Jayhawks lead the league in interceptions with 15.

Offensively, the Huskers are lead by another David, but his last name is Humm. Humm is the conference's second leading passer, having completed 63 of 98 passes for a total of 895 yards. He has thrown four interceptions but he also has seven touchdown passes.

Humm is the conference leader in total offense. He has a combined rushing and passing game average of 226.5 yards a game.

Other Huskers ranking high in this week's Big 8 statistics are I-back Tony Davis, split end Frosty Anderson, wingback Ritch Bahe and cornerback Randy Borg.

Davis is the league's fifth leading rusher with 501 yards in 112 carries and he is the conference's fifth leading scorer with 36 points.

Despite a dislocated shoulder which will keep him out of three games, Anderson is the Big Eight's second leading receiver with 20 catches for 367 yards and six touchdowns. Bahe is the fifth leading receiver with 14 catches for 221 yards and one touchdown.

Borg is the conference's third leading punt returner as he has returned 20 punts for 202 yards, an average of 10.1 yards a return.

Nebraska leads the series with Kansas (55-21-3). Last year in Lawrence, Kan., the Huskers romped over the Jayhawks 56-0.
