

Fee increase hearing scheduled

A $10 increase in student fees next semester might be necessary to maintain the present level of services students now receive, according to UNL senior Dave Morrison, chairman of the Fees Allocations Board.

Morrison said the board will conduct an open hearing April 3 at 4:30 p.m. to determine if an increase in student fees is needed and if some groups should continue to receive fees.

Jobs...

His office also hopes to place persons in about 1,200 government agency jobs.

Finding a job largely depends on the student, Kozol said. It depends how hard he tries to get a job and what skill he has, such as typing or bookkeeping, he explained. Finding a job depends on attitude, skill, competition for the job and where the student goes to apply.

Kozol said about 20,000 people between the ages of 14 and 22 came to the Omaha employment office for jobs last year. About 2,400 jobs were found, he said.

College students sometimes are more particular than high school students so they may miss jobs. Whereas a high school girl will take a waitress job, a college student may think she could do something better, Kozol said.

But students with humanities or social science majors don't really have a special skill, he said. And college students usually look for a job paying at least $3 an hour to help pay tuition, Kozol added.

He said office work holds the most jobs for college students in Omaha. This includes clerical work, marketing and telephone or door to door canvassing.

College men usually work in construction because it pays more, Kozol added.

Wages depend on experience, he said, but most jobs pay from $1.60 to $2.20. Corn detassling wages, between $1.40 and $1.80, are less because it is agricultural work, he said.

IF YOU TAKE THE ARMY ROTC TWO-YEAR PROGRAM FOR JUNIORS AND SENIORS...

We promise that you can collect up to:

5 pictures of William McKinley or 25 of Ben Franklin; or 50 of General Grant; or 125 of Andrew Jackson; or 250 of Alexander Hamilton; or 2500 of George Washington. You will have two years to finish your collections. And get your degree.

Bud Drinkers, can you figure this out?

Ralph bought a 6-pak of Budweiser and invited four friends over to share it. Since he bought, he expected to have two cans to himself, but unfortunately when he returned to the refrigerator for his second, he found it missing. So he asked who took it. Al said, "Joe drank it." Joe said, "Dan drank it." Dan said, "Joe, that's a lie!" And Bill said, "I didn't drink it." If only one of these statements is true, who really drank it?

ANSWER: If you assume Al is the guilty one, Dan's and Bill's statements are true. If you think it's Joe, then Joe's and Dan's statements are true. Obviously if you think Dan did it, then Joe's and Bill's statements are true. Moral: If Ralph had bought five 6-paks, they could have spent more time drinking and less time arguing.

There are a lot of jobs to be done in this world, helping people in trouble, in pain, in distress. American Red Cross takes on more of these jobs than anybody. Surprised?

Remember, Red Cross is more than blood drives. It's more than helping the thousands of victims of disasters. In fact, American Red Cross tackles over 100 different kinds of "Helping People" jobs—in the city, the suburbs, wherever you are.

We need money, it's true, so we can go on offering all our free services. But we also need hearts. And hands. And conviction. Call your local chapter. Join us.
