

Student input wanted by CBA board

Students in the College of Business Administration are insured a sharp pencil and a reasonably good chance of finding adequate seating in the college's halls, and they have the CBA Advisory Board to thank for it.

While the CBA Advisory Board's accomplishments may not be breathtaking, they are something to be proud of and have benefited students, according to former board member Tim Kirkpatrick.

New board members were elected two weeks ago in the annual election. At their first two meetings the board began planning next year's program, returning board member Mark Rasmussen said.

Rasmussen, Kirkpatrick and CBA Special Programs Director Robert Flood, who acts as a liaison between CBA students and administrators, agree that Ron Smith, CBA dean, is largely responsible for the board's increased activity last year. Smith is completing his first year as CBA dean.

Rasmussen said Smith is ushering in "a new era" for the college and that Smith is "very eager for input from students." Smith is effectively responding to students needs and getting things done which benefit students, he said.

"Students usually have a better chance of getting into see the dean than faculty members do," Flood said.

Approximately 11% of the more than 2,000 business students voted in the recent election, Flood said. Approximately 100 students voted in the 1973 election, he said.

Twenty-four persons ran in this year's election to fill the 10 seat student board. Last year several persons ran uncontested.

Rasmussen emphasized that this year's election did not involve a major issue and did not receive the party publicity or involve the general apathy and misconceptions which are frequently a part of party voting.

"Everyone that voted was really interested," he said. ASUN and CBA elections used to be held at the same time, but CBA split from ASUN elections several years ago.

Board accomplishments this year include: compiling a calendar of events, compiling a Who's Who in CBA and a business course description book, initiating installation of a telephone on the first floor of CBA, conducting a survey to determine where students would like to have clocks and pencil sharpeners installed in CBA, having bulletin boards put up in CBA for campus groups and the student advisory board, putting up a suggestion box to increase student input into the dean's office and determining wanted areas for vending machines.

Board meetings are open to the public and students are encouraged to attend and make suggestions, Kirkpatrick said.

Making themselves known to students and obtaining services for students were big priorities for the board this year, he said.

Kirkpatrick, a graduating senior, speculated that after the primary needs of students are met, the board may turn their attention to more academic problems.

Rasmussen indicated that the new board will consider establishing an advising system for freshmen business students. Currently the college has no established advising program for business students. Advisers are available, but are not assigned.

According to Kirkpatrick, a problem would arise because freshmen ordinarily take accounting 103 and 104 the first year and probably do not take another business course until their junior year.

A freshmen advising system, which would include a student adviser and a faculty adviser for freshmen, would help give the student "an over-all view of business," Kirkpatrick said.

Rod McKuen In Concert
 One of the great entertainers of this generation...
 American Folk Music
 A Gilman Award
 Exclusive Management: Ferec D'Amico, 433 1st St. S.E.
OMAHA CIVIC AUDITORIUM MUSIC HALL
 MAY 8, 1974 7:30 P.M.
 TICKET PRICES: $4, $5, $6, all seats reserved—tickets on sale at arena box office 10-6 daily

Hollywood & Vine TWIN THEATRES
 12th & Olive Sts. 475-6626

ROCK SPECIAL ALL SEATS 99¢
 REMEMBER... THE DUCK TAIL HAIR-DO'S... WHEN GUYS WORE ENGINEER BOOTS... AND GALS WORE PEDAL PUSHERS AND PONY TAILS?
WELL, IT'S ALL HERE IN THE FILM THAT PICKS-UP WHERE "AMERICAN GRAFFITI" LEFT OFF... WITH ALL THOSE GOLDEN OLDIES!
 CHUCK BERRY THE COASTERS
 LITTLE RICHARD FATS DOMINO
 THE SHERELLS CHUBBY CHECKERS
 AND MANY MORE...
"LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL"
The Playmates DEEP VISION
3-D

Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS

- Love god
- Purse
- Work gang
- Banter
- Rabbit
- Opposite of debtor
- Church part
- Being
- Gathered together
- Lean
- Gasp
- Cooking utensils
- Fireplace ledges
- Skill
- Antoinette
- Paddle
- Due to motion
- Give in charity
- God of war
- Impressions

DOWN

- Rudiments of a subject
- Deface
- Lyric poem
- Horsemen
- Clubs
- Past
- Teutonic
- Virtuous
- Knocks
- Scottish Gaelic
- Noxious plant
- Baseball team
- Poker stake
- Health resort
- Recreation area
- Prefix: against
- French city
- Fabric
- Diving bird
- Seasoning
- Bare
- Thing (law)
- Dozed
- Ridicule
- English title
- Kind of icather
- Indian
- Scrutinize
- Saucy
- Fasten
- Roofer's tool
- Hebrew priest
- Harden

Average time of solution: 25 min.

SHED WAN BEDS
 HATE ELI AGIO
 OMAR SALLINGER
 DELIVER CASTE
 DOR TON
 SINEW DONATED
 IRA SIP OWE
 REGRETS PATEN
 ALY RES
 ABETS GARTERS
 LETTERED RIAL
 ANNE ANA ARNO
 STAR HER LETT

Answers to last Puzzle

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12			13					14
15								16
			17			18	19
20	21	22				23
24						25		26	27
28				29				30	31
	32	33						34
			35					36
37	38	39				40
41				42	43			44	45	46
47				48
49				50				51

Sponsored by
Globe Quality Cleaners
 Call Lady Globe for your winter storage
 11th & L Streets

UNIVERSITY THEATRE
 12TH & B 472-2073

ROSENCRANTZ & GUILDENSTERN ARE DEAD
 BY TOM STUDDARD

APRIL 26, 27, 29, 30 MAY 1-4
TICKETS $2.00 & $2.50

SOPHOMORES: Join the Nebraska Delegation to Army ROTC basic leadership camp at Ft. Knox this summer. Nine NU students have entered the program that offers them financial assistance during their last two years plus invaluable training in leadership and management. Let's make it an even dozen.
 110 M & N, 472-2468.