HENRY'S 1123 'R'

Big 8 poll . . .

The writers agreed that Oklahoma, with nine of eleven starters returning on offense and four regulars from last year's outstanding defensive unit, will be tough to dethrone as Big 8 champs.

Quarterback Steve Davis operates the Sooner Wishbone that has accumulated 163 points in three games this season.

The defense centers around All-American linebacker Rod Shoate and the two Selmon brothers, Dewey and Leroy, in the line.

The Huskers figure to be the top challenger for the crown on the basis of their depth and a potent offense with an improved running attack.

Missouri's long suit will be its defense with nine starters returning. The Tigers may have problems with an inconsistent offense because they have failed to come up with an established quarterback. Running back Ray Bybee figures to be the Bengals' most potent offensive weapon.

Kansas returns seven starters on defense, including All-American safety Kurt Knoff, but the Jayhawks have quarterback woes with the loss of David Jaynes to graduation.

Under new Head Coach Bill Mallory, Colorado's offense will have to be reckoned with. Despite a favorable home schedule, the Buffs will have to improve their defense to contend.

Of the last three, Oklahoma State looked the best in nonconference play despite having the poorest won-loss record (against tougher opponents than Kansas State or Iowa State).
