

Nebraska's Attorney General should have years of specialized training for the job...

DOUGLAS Does.

Paul Douglas has, on request, participated in criminal cases across the state. He has skillfully coordinated the investigative efforts of local, state and federal law enforcement agencies.

During his 18 years of service at the County Attorney level, Paul has received the respect of lawyers and courts throughout Nebraska. His experience has gained Paul the best possible training for the job ...and the endorsement of our present Attorney General.
