

Residence halls receive new carpeting this year

By Lisa Brown

Ten residence halls on campus have or will receive new carpeting during the 1974-75 school year, according to Richard Armstrong, director of Housing.

Sandoz, Burr and Fedde halls received carpet in the corridors of the living floors. Other areas to be carpeted in Fedde Hall include the multi-purpose room, entrance lobby and the downstairs TV room. Burr Hall will receive additional carpets in a few areas where the carpet needs to be replaced, Armstrong said.

Armstrong estimated the cost of carpeting the corridors in the three halls at about $31,050, including the cost of carpet, shipping and installation. About $17,050 will be spent in Sandoz and about $14,000 will be spent on Burr-Fedde, he said.

Dining rooms get carpet

Carpet will also be installed in each dining room on city campus, except Selleck, which already has it, Armstrong said. Half of each of the dining rooms will be carpeted during first semester, and he said he expects carpet to be installed in the other halves of the dining rooms over Christmas vacation, if everything continues on schedule.

Armstrong said that according to the schedule he received from the UNL Purchasing Dept., the Harper-Schramm-Smith south dining room will be carpeted this week, the Abel-Sandoz south dining room will be carpeted Nov. 18-20 and the north dining room of Cather-Pound-Neihardt will be carpeted Nov. 25-27.

The total cost of carpeting the three dining rooms is estimated at $33,900, Armstrong said. Abel-Sandoz and Cather-Pound-Neihardt will each cost about $10,000 to carpet, and Harper-Schramm-Smith will cost about $13,900 to carpet, he said.

Several other carpets were installed in residence halls which were not included in the Board of Regents 1974 allocation. Carpet was recently installed at Cather Hall in the elevator area of the lobby.

Carpet price reduced

The main floor lounges of Harper and Smith Halls received new carpeting to replace the original carpeting. Armstrong said the purchasing department learned of an overrun, and was able to purchase the carpet at a greatly reduced price.

An overrun occurs when the manufacturer runs a given quantity of carpet in anticipation of selling it, but with storage space at a premium he may find it cheaper to sell the carpet at a reduced rate, rather than store it.

Armstrong estimated the cost of the carpet in the Harper Hall lounge at $6 per square yard and that in the Smith Hall lounge at about $6.36 per square yard. Installation and shipping are not included in the estimates.

Bob Brandt, Harper-Schramm-Smith complex program director, said that Harper and Smith Halls were chosen to receive the carpet, even though Schramm needed it too, because the pieces of carpet would fit in their lounge space, due to the floor layouts.
