

Religious lecturer McDowell to begin Lincoln visit Sunday

Josh McDowell, 33, an international representative of Campus Crusade for Christ, will be in Lincoln January 26-28.

McDowell will speak about "The Resurrection: Hoax or History?" at 8:30 p.m. January 26 in the Nebraska Union Ballroom, and about "Prophecy: What You Don't Know May Hurt You!" at 8 p.m. January 27 in the UNL coliseum.

January 28 at 8 p.m. McDowell will speak at Pershing Auditorium on "Maximum Sex—or Love is Still Possible in a Junky World."

Five UNL campus religious groups—Campus Crusade for Christ, Baptist Student Fellowship, the Navigators, Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship and the Baptist Student Union—are sponsoring McDowell's appearance.

A graduate cum laude of Kellogg Community College, Battle Creek Michigan; Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill.; and of Talbot Theological Seminary, magna cum laude; McDowell holds degrees in economic theory, in languages, and in theology.

Work began in June

Members of Campus Crusade for Christ began in June 1974 to get approval for McDowell's campus speeches.

Jack Guthrie, business officer of the Development Center for Student Organization and Activities, met with the president and campus director of the local Campus Crusade for Christ in June to explain the NU Board of Regent's policy concerning religious activities on the UNL campus.

The NU Board of Regents allows the study of religion when it assumes a secular, philosophical, historical, or cultural content, and will not allow UNL to be used for activities where religious worship or testimony is a factor.

Sponsoring groups conscientious

Guthrie said he is confident that all scheduled activities will adhere to the regent's policy. He said the groups sponsoring the program have been extremely conscientious in working with him, and within every guideline so that they don't jeopardize their campus standing.

Groups using UNL buildings must provide their own plumber, custodian, and electrician if one is not normally on duty during the meeting time. The regular staff of the Nebraska Union will be on duty but Campus Crusade for Christ will hire a plumber, electrician and custodian for the coliseum.

The regular campus police staff will be in the area both nights during the scheduled 90-minute programs.

RHA will poll members on proposed $1 social fee

UNL Residence Hall Association (RHA) members agreed Thursday night to take a consensus on their dorm floors to see if students want to add $1 to next year's $95 increase in housing rates.

The $1 would be a social fee to be split between RHA and dorm governments.

Marie Hansen, coordinator for residence hall programs, said Housing Director Richard Armstrong, wants recommendations about dorm contracts soon.

The dorm contracts must be at the printers by February 10. Tim Evensen, RHA president, explained that the money would be put in the RHA general fund for use for all floors.

Evensen also said that the proposed new dorm contract gives a resident three options if a roommate moves out—he can find another roommate (within two weeks), the Housing office will assign a roommate or he will be moved to another room (on the same floor.)

In other business, Evensen said RHA week will be the second week in April and he suggested that dorm governments begin plans soon.

The purpose of RHA week, according to Evensen, is to "promote the dorms and to encourage students to move in."

Carpet! And you don't have to buy 1,000 square yards or pay a super high price for it either. The honest truth is, these "offerings" are remnants—left over yardage from some of the homes we've carpeted for Lincoln home builders.

They're in all different sizes and shapes and many of them should be just right for a college room, or apartment.

Why not stop by and take a look. You'll never know what wild, wonderful things you could do to your room until you see what we've got.
