

NOW.

A chance to get to know yourself and Scandinavia.

Most students get college credit.

The Scandinavian Seminar program offers a year of living and studying in Denmark, Finland, Norway, or Sweden. You'll live in a student-teacher community, and you'll probably be just about the only American around. You don't even have to know a Scandinavian language to start. Best of all, in many cases the year will cost less than a year at most American schools.

Cello soloist performs Sunday

One of the nation's leading cello soloists, Zara Nelsova, will perform with the University Symphony Sunday at 4 p.m. in Kimball Recital Hall.

Although this is her third year as an artist-in-residence, it will be her first performance with the orchestra. Nelsova played in many Nebraska communities during her other residencies.

Nelsova will play the popular concerto for cello and orchestra, "Concerto in A minor, Opus 33" by Saint-Saens.

Conductor Emanuel Wishnow said that the orchestra was honored to have an artist of her stature appearing with them. Nelsova has appeared on major stages throughout America and Europe.

The free concert will also feature the orchestra playing the overture to Auber's "Fra Diavolo" and Tchaikovsky's "Romeo and Juliet Overture-Fantasy".

A reception honoring Professor Wishnow and his wife will be held from 5:30 to 7 p.m. in the Nebraska Union. Wishnow will retire in July after conducting the orchestra since 1941.

Aunt Hannah says:

See a movie on Thursday

This week Aunt Hannah recommends:

Saturday:

Ch. 12, 7 p.m.: The Black Tulip. The concluding episode in this adaptation of Alexandre Dumas' romantic story. With Simon Ward.

Ch. 12, 10 p.m.: Of Pure Blood. This documentary examines the attempts by Hitler and Nazi Germany to purify their Aryan race. Witnesses relate examples of child kidnaping and selected breeding.

Ch. 6, 10:30 p.m.: Hombre (movie, 1967). Psychological western study of bigotry and greed starring Paul Newman as the silent Apache forced to act as protector in a white man's world.

Sunday:

Ch. 3, 1 p.m.: Jitterbugs (movie, 1943). One of the last of the Laurel and Hardy comedy features.

Ch. 7, 1 p.m.: The Blob (movie, 1958). Horror-camp par excellence as Steve McQueen battles the big green blob.

Ch. 12, 6:30 p.m.: Evening at Symphony. Repeat performances of this series, this week featuring Hector Berlioz' "Symphonie Fantastique" performed by Seiji Ozawa and the Boston Symphony.

Monday:

Ch. 7, 7 p.m.: ABC Theatre Drama: I Will Fight No More Forever. The story of Chief Joseph, who refused to follow the U.S. government's order to take his Nez Pierce Indian tribe to a reservation and instead tried to lead them on a long and tragic exodus to Canada.

Ch. 3, midnight: Tomorrow. Host Tom Snyder looks at the mysteries surrounding the infamous Bermuda Triangle and the legendary Loch Ness monster.

Thursday: Go see a movie.

Friday:

Ch. 7, 7 p.m.: The Thomas Crown Affair (movie, 1968). A sparkling, sophisticated romance-mystery starring Faye Dunaway and Steve McQueen. Directed by Norman Jewison (In the Heat of the Night, Fiddler on the Roof.)

Ch. 4 (cable), 9 p.m.: From Sea to Shining Sea: The Unwanted. Special drama about rejected Irish immigrants in the 1840s with Richard Boone as an America ship captain who agrees to smuggle a group of the outcasts into Canada.

Also, for sports fans, NBA basketball playoffs begin the week on Saturday and Sunday, as does the young Major League Baseball Season, with NBC presenting their first game this Saturday between the world champion Oakland A's and Texas.

Monday night at 7 p.m., Joe Garagiola's Baseball World returns with a special look at baseball humor in the movies from the silent days into the talkies.

TV Aunt Hannah

Tuesday:

Ch. 7, 3 p.m.: Let's Dance. (movie, 1950). Show-biz story starring Fred Astaire. Need we say more?

Ch. 12, 7:30 p.m.: A China Memoir. A documentary written, produced and directed by actress-author Shirley Mac Laine about her recent visit to mainland Red China.

Ch. 3, midnight: Tomorrow. More discussion on the again prominent urge to re-examine the Kennedy assassination. With Tom Snyder.

Wednesday:

Ch. 7, 10:30 p.m.: Play It Again, Bogie. Repeat showing of this well-done movie-clip festival of the life and films of Humphrey Bogart, an actor who was great as his rebirth as a cult figure has made him out to be. Host Peter Lawford interviews people like Ingrid Bergman, George Raft and Ida Lupino, and shows highlights of the Bogart classics: Casablanca, The Maltese Falcon, High Sierra, The Treasure of the Sierra Madre
