

Print exhibit planned

Oriental etchings, woodcuts, lithographs and drawings will be exhibited in the Nebraska Union Main Lounge Thursday and Friday. The display is sponsored by the Nebraska Union Visual Arts Committee.

A representative from the exhibit's suppliers, Marson Ltd., will be present to answer questions about the artists, their works and the various graphic techniques used by oriental artists.

All works in the display will be for sale. Each print or drawing in the exhibit is matted and labeled with pertinent information.

The collection consists of works from Japan, China, Thailand, India, Tibet and Nepal and includes art by the "old masters" of the 18th and 19th centuries—including Hiroshigem, Hokusai, Kuniyoshi and others. Contemporary artists, working in the mediums of woodcuts, serigraphs, lithographs and mezzotints, will also be represented.

Marson Ltd. specialized in arranging exhibitions and sales of oriental art at colleges, museums and art centers throughout the country. Their representative will be showing the collection from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday.

treated in the past," Fritz said.

Although the recitals are scheduled in conjunction with the workshop for piano teachers, all are open to the public. The recitals will be held at 8 p.m. at Kimball Recital Hall. There will be no admission charge.

Fritz described the workshop as one of the major piano efforts in the country this summer.

"We've been remiss in supplying this sort of thing for teachers, he noted.

Johb Moran, director of the UN-L School of Music, said the workshop is an effort to provide training for teachers who will not be spending the summer on the campus.

The proportion of music teachers with advanced degrees is growing, he said, and workshops of this type are a means of providing more training for them.
