Women highlighted in UNL literary magazine

Women's contribution to literature is a major topic in the new edition of "Prairie Schooner," UNL's literary magazine.

A written symposium concerning women and tragedy follows The Male Nature of Tragedy, by Carol Gelderman, assistant professor of English at the University of New Orleans.

Four scholars reply Gelderman's question: "Why has no woman ever written great tragedy." Gelderman's argument is based on an analysis of Greek drama from the 5th century B.C.

James Blish, a frequent script writer for the now defunct Star Trek TV show, contributed a poem to this edition of the Schooner.

Other contributors are Joyce Carol

Oates, a National Book Award winner and poet Ted Kooser, a Lincoln insurance man.

Steven C. Hahn, a surveyor-draftman in Blair, has his first published poem in the magazine.

"We have one of the oldest literary magazines in the country," said editor Bernice Slote.

Prairie Schooner was founded in the spring of 1927 by English professor Lowry C. Wimberly.

"Sculpture Garden," the cover art of the new edition was done in watercolor and pastel by Glenn Hild, a UNL art student.

Prairie Schooner is on sale for $1.75 in the English Dept. office and local bookstores.

Yogurt treats

Yogurt, a versatile food item, is a cultured milk product made from whole, low-fat or skim milk. Commercial yogurt generally is made from whole or low fat milk, while homemade yogurt can be made from skim milk.

To begin the day, try fruit mixed with unflavored yogurt.

Yogurt breakfast

2 cups yogurt
2 oranges, peeled and chopped
1 apple chopped
1/2 cup nuts, chopped
3 T. raisins
6 T. wheat germ
2 T. honey
Mix ingredients together and serve immediately.
Serves 3 to 4.

To serve a low-calorie nutritious snack, use homemade yogurt as base for a dip and serve with crisp raw vegetables such as carrot or celery sticks, florets of broccoli or cauliflower, thin slices of zucchini or tiny tomatoes.

Blend 1 cup yogurt, 1 diced onion, 1 tsp. garlic powder, one-quarter cup celery leaves finely minced, 2 tsp. parsley finely minced, one-half tsp salt and 2 T. brewers yeast (optional). Yield: one and one-third cup.

Another dip with an interesting flavor is made by combining 1 cup plain yogurt, 3 T. mayonnaise and two to three teaspoons curry powder. Salt to taste. Makes 1 cup.

Yogurt also can be used as a base for salad dressings.

Yogurt dressing

2 tsp. lemon juice
1 T. oil
1/2 cup plain yogurt (made from partially skimmed or skim milk)
1/2 tsp. paprika
dash tabasco sauce
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. garlic powder
Mix ingredients together in a blender on medium speed for five seconds. Yield: two-thirds cup.

For dessert, whip yogurt with a few drops of lemon juice and 2 T. warmed honey. Use as topping for fruit cups, melon balls, applesauce or other fruit desserts.
