Delayed catalogue features students' class evaluations

Better late than never describes this semester's Whole University Catalogue. Sherry Cole chairwoman of the Center for Educational Change (CEC), said the catalogues, which are the same as those distributed last spring, will be out by Monday.

Because of other ASUN concerns such as the open campus meeting and Fees Allocation Board (FAB) controversy, she said, the catalogues are late.

The catalogues are course evaluations done by students.

Cole said CEC is redistributing last spring's catalogues because most classes this semester are the same and CEC has been concentrating its efforts on a new second semester catalogue. She said redistributing last semester's catalogue saved money.

Next semester's catalogue may include teacher and student evaluations on each class, Cole said.

The new catalogue evaluations are similar to those turned over to individual departments every semester, Cole said.

"The catalogue should be a positive outlook at classes," she said. "This type of catalogue would help prevent students from getting into classes they may not like or fit into."

CEC is concerned about teacher reactions to such a catalogue, Cole said, and is contacting teacher's organizations to check their responses.

Students and faculty members also will be contacted to find out what students want to know about faculty members and what questions faculty members would like to ask students in reference to teaching performances.

Cole said they are looking for help to work on next semester's catalogue.

Folk music to close fiesta

The Mexican Festival, Jornadas Mexicanas, concludes today with the performance of the Los Folkloristas de Rene Villanueva at 8 p.m. in Kimball Recital Hall, 11th and R streets.

The Mexican folk music company started in 1966 to interpret folk music of Mexico and Latin America. Los Folkloristas collects music and instruments from various places in Latin America. The group's members, who play more than 80 different instruments, have performed on television in Mexico, Costa Rica, Ecuador and Germany and toured several times in the United States.

Los Folkloristas concert is open to the public and is free.

Mexican arts and crafts exhibition remains on display through Nov. 9 in Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery as does an exhibit of Mexican books at Love Memorial Library.

CAPITOL SMALL CAR PARTS

You've been there. Now you can help them.

They've got a long way to go. In a world that isn't easy. But with someone's help, they'll make it. What they need is a friend. Someone to act as confidant and guide. Perhaps, it could be you as a Salesian Priest or Brother.

The Salesians of St. John Bosco were founded in 1859 to serve youth. Unlike other orders whose episcopate has changed with varying conditions, the Salesians always have been — and will be, youth oriented. Today we're helping to prepare youngsters for the world that awaits them tomorrow. Not an easy task but one which we welcome.

And how do we go about it? By following the precepts of our founder, Don Bosco. To crowd out evil with reason, religion and kindness with a method of play, learn and pray. We're trying to build better communities by helping to create better men.

As a Salesian, you are guaranteed the chance to help the young in a wide range of endeavor... as guidance counselors, technical and academic teachers, as coaches, psychologists... in boys clubs, summer camps... as missionaries. And you are given the kind of training you need to achieve your aims.

The Salesian family is a large one (we are the third largest order) but a warm one. A community with an enthusiastic family feeling where not only our talents are shared but our shortcomings, too. If you feel as we do, that service to youth can be an important mission in your life, we welcome your interest.
