Noted photographer Peter Bunnell will be at UNL today to discuss "Wright Morris as a Photographer."

Bunnell is a professor of Photography and Modern Art at Princeton University and a director of the Princeton Art Museum.

His lecture is one of several in the Montgomery Lecture Series on "The Art of Wright Morris." Morris, a native Nebraskan and author, is a visiting professor and novelist-in-residence at UNL this semester.

Known for his photography as well as his novels, one of which earned him a National Book Award, Morris currently is holding a retrospective exhibit at Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery titled: "Structures and Artifacts 1933-1954."

Bunnell's lecture will be at 1:30 p.m. in the Sheldon Auditorium.

He received a bachelors of fine arts from the Rochester Institute of Technology, a master of fine arts from Ohio University and an M.A. from Yale University.

Bunnell was curator of photography at the Museum of Modern Art in New York City from 1966-72.
