

Teaching jobs 'down under' available

If you are looking for a place where "living conditions are cheaper and pay is higher" and you are a senior in Teachers College, Australia is the place for you, according to Ron Joekel, associate dean of the college.

Not only that, but "it's a good experience," he said. Interviews for Australian teaching positions are being conducted today and tomorrow, according to Lee DeJonge, director of teacher placement. The Victoria Teacher Selection program of Hayward, Calif., will conduct the interviews for elementary and secondary positions, he said.

The school systems in Australia are very similar to those in the United States, De Jonge said, and "the adjustment to Australian life does not seem difficult for Americans."

"Eleven teachers actually went to Australia last year, but usually there are double that many offers," he said.

One-way air fare is paid for the teacher signing a one-year contract, he said, and air fare is paid for the teacher and spouse and dependents upon the signature of a two year contract. All fares are charter rates, he said.

An orientation film which shows housing conditions, students and educational conditions in Australia, must be viewed before interviews.

Showing for the film is today from noon to 1:30 p.m. and Saturday, 9 to 10:30 a.m.

Those wishing to view the film or sign up for interviews may do so by contacting the Teacher Placement Office, Teacher's College, 106, De Jonge said.
