Packets may have new info

Information about all UNL student organizations could be included in next year's freshman packets, said Judith-Anne Sadler, Student Alumni Board (SAB) member and coordinator of freshman packets.

Sixty organizations were invited to publish information about their activities in the packet, she said.

SAB will not incur any additional costs by including other organization's materials, Sadler said. Each organization will pay for all printing costs for its material, she said.

Fees Allocation Board appropriated $500 to SAB for the packet, Sadler said. This also covers printing SAB's letter and the packet's container.

About 5,000 packets probably will be compiled, she said.

This is the third year SAB has produced the packets. However, Sadler said, it is the second year the packet has been available to other organizations.
