

Coalition, ROTC coup topples ASUN Slonut

By George Mueller

In a move that shook the UNL campus, the Coalition for Unich Referendum forcibly took power Wednesday night from the ASUN Slonut.

Aided by elements of the Pershing Rifle ROTC unit, members of the Coalition marched into the Slonut's weekly meeting during a heated discussion over a resolution introduced by Graduate Studies College Sen. Frank Talksome, calling for yet another investigation into the finances of the Daily Keep-askin'.

According to reports received by the Daily Keep-askin' late Thursday, Coalition members declared ASUN dissolved and arrested ASUN Pheasident Pill Miller.

At present Miller's exact whereabouts are unknown, although sources inside the Coalition reported Miller is being held under guard in the Nebraska Free University office on the Nebraska Onion's third floor.

Clear out quick

Onion Director Al Bentmouth, when asked to confirm this report, said only that Miller "had better clear out quick because we need the space for the Crampus Assistance Center (CAC)."

Former ASUN Sen. Robert Simonsays said Bentmouth's statement was "just one more example of Bentmouth's disdain for student input into the CAC."

Greeks held

Mark Old, new information minister for the Coalition, said Thursday that all Greek ASUN members have been removed from office and currently are under detention in the former office of the Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic. These offices now have been moved to the private dining rooms of Dumbstruck Restaurant on 48th St., Old reported.

Old also said that all non-Greek members of ASUN would be allowed to run for seats on the Coalition's assembly if they promised to behave themselves. However, Old would not specify when those elections would be. "We might have them sometime next year, but we're not sure yet," he said.

Sinsalot: Stay calm

Coalition President Ron Sinsalot, addressing the campus over KRUMY radio, Thursday urged students to "remain calm" and warned Greek students to "accept the new realities at UNL and work within the system."

He said that as a security precaution, Greek students would not be allowed to carry firearms, drink beer, date, use fireworks, vote in university elections or cash checks at Gateway Bank until further notice.

He also said all Greeks would be confined to their maternity houses for the time being to "prevent them from forming counter-insurgency plans during FAC's or formals."

Coup prevented

Sinsalot explained that the Coalition made its move to prevent a planned coup by Theta Nu Epsilon (TNE), a right-wing terrorist organization. He said all TNE leaders would be jailed as soon as the Coalition can figure out who they are.

However, in a conciliatory gesture to the Greeks, Sinsalot named Paul Moronson, a member of Lamby Pi Alkie fraternity, as secretary of the Coalition.

'Pea brains'

In a prepared statement, Moronson called on all "responsible Greeks" to cooperate with the new regime. He said the vast majority of Greek students on campus were responsible and that only a few "rucking Greeks" and "pea brains" were causing all the trouble.

In a related move, Al Eviland, a senior prissy major from North Bend, announced formation of the Greek Liberation Army (GLA) that would attempt to retake the UNL student government.

Eviland refused to name GLA members, but said each Greek house president has been given a list of GLA members and will read it at next Monday's meetings.

He said no one will be forced to join the GLA and compared the movement to a labor union inviting members to beat up scabs.

Scott Crok, a member of the Coalition's rules committee, said Wednesday's actions definitely proved that the Coalition was through with "toy politics."

"Those ain't toys our Pershing Rifle boys is totin'," Crok said.

Former ASUN First Vice-President Tonysee Ernie Williams said it was "highly unlikely" the Slonut could muster a quorum for next Wednesday's meeting.

Daily Keep-askin' Photo

Hubert C. Muffpuddy, Lincoln street cleaner for more than 30 years, winds up his last day on the job by watering down Centennial Mall as friends and well-wishers look on. Muffpuddy has been forced to retire because of a thyroid imbalance.

Toung new UNL da-da; milk machines planned

By Gazeba Gills

The NU Board of Regents (BORE) voted unanimously at its Maundy Thursday meeting to appoint Boy Toung to the ex-officio position of UNL father.

"I'm tickled pink that Tong was selected," said Daddy Reckabridge, who has been invalid UNL daddy since Thames Iceberg went on to bigger and better things (more money).

Since Toung has been director of Orecome State University's child care center for 41 years, he will make an "excellent" UNL father, said Teddy Swartzcough, Lincoln regret.

"I concur with Teddy," said Grand Peninsula Regret Pappa Koetoe. "Toung said plans are being made to install milk machines on all dorm floors, and I think that's a fine idea."

However, Wilbur Regret Bobby Pronot said he had several reservations—one at the Happy and the other at the Horney Hotel—so he had to leave the BORE meeting before he could expound on Toung's appointment.

In other action, the BORE accepted a proposal to secretly initiate an investigation of UNL's geek system.

Ben Kader, UNL vice-father for children's affairs, introduced the proposal.

"I've received a lot of static about UNL's geeks, not to mention the poor reception on my TV," Kader smiled. "The complaints have come from all quarters (nickles and dimes), and usually pertain to the inert geek activity," he modestly added.

"I've been particularly disturbed by the lack of geeks in DNE (Da News Editors)," he chuckled. "That's why I'd like to start an investigation and see where the geeks are hanging out and what they're up to."

Regret Robert Wrong of Minden was the only regret in opposition to the proposal, which he said represented a crusade by UNL parents.

"I'm sorry, pardon me, but I was a geek at UNL and I don't think there is anything that needs investigating," Wrong said. "The geeks are just doing their own thing, so leave them alone and they'll come home, wagging their panhel behind them."

Will Biller, UNL's No. 1 regret, said he didn't have much to say about the investigation. Biller is a geek ASSN president and UNL student regret.

Another issue raised was that of dorm food, specifically bread. Hermit Wagher, Schuyler regret, made a motion on the floor and was asked to leave until secretary Bill Swandaughter could clean up his movement.

Despite the staunch movement, UNL Housing Baby-sitter Richard Legstrong recommended that the BORE discontinue allowing dorms to serve meat to students.

"Have you ever seen an angry student?" Legstrong asked the board. "Whenever we feed them meat they just go crazy and act like animals trying to make their kill."

"I figure that if we take meat away from them, they'll be a lot more civil, passive and tolerable," he said.

But Reckabridge opposed the recommendation because he said he enjoyed "getting the student's gander up." In addition, he asked the BORE to reject the proposal.

Without haste, the BORE accepted Reckabridge's suggestion and killed the no-meat proposal. BORE chairman Hermit Toyland said the proposal was absurd because it did not include the removal of foul from dorm menus. Toyland added that he hates foul, and if anything makes him angry, foul does.

"Children do not live by bread alone," Toyland cried. "They can have their meat and eat it too!" he yelped.

The only other items the board struggled with were First Drown and UNL-UNO parody. Regret Rob Silence of Scottsbluff said he was sick and sleepy about wading around in the First Drown issue.

"Well," Silence said, "Hummmmmmm."

"You tell 'em Robby," exclaimed Swartzcough. "We don't want to bother with anything like First Drown unless it involves Rob Uncanny. He's our boy and we'll back him at least two per cent."

Then chairman Toyland asked if anyone wanted to discuss the UNL-UNO parody issue.

"No, not today," Koetoe said. "It's been going on since UNL and UNO first purged in 1968, so I don't think there's any rush."

"You can bet your bibby it'll still be going on when the new BORE members are elected in November," he said. "I move that we let them take care of it."

"Motion carries," Toyland said, motioning up Swandaughter to clean up Koetoe's movement. "Regret Swartzcough, since you like to get your name in the paper, would you move for adjournment?"

"I'll do anything in the name of my family," Swartzcough said.

He did, and they did.

Daily Keep-askin' Photos

The many moods of Adam Breckenridge