

Husker women have busy schedule

By Jim Kay

The UNL women's athletics slate will be full this weekend as four different teams face major competition.

The women's basketball team will play their second and third games of the season Friday and Saturday against the University of Winnipeg in the Coliseum. The basketball team opened their season with an 81-80 victory over the University of Colorado Nov. 6.

Head coach George Nicodemus said that though he was pleased with the victory, the team could stand some improvement.

Nicodemus said his team controlled the boards but he still expects some improvement from the Huskers with each game.

"We need to be a little more aggressive on offense," he said. "But overall I think we played pretty well."

Nicodemus cited two players, Jan Crouch, who scored 16 points for the Huskers before running into foul trouble, and Kathy Hawkins, who scored 15 points, for their play in the Colorado game.

Nicodemus said he would also like to see some student support at his team's games.

'Dirty Sneakers'

"I'd like to start a 'Dirty Sneakers Club'," Nicodemus said. "Season tickets would be five dollars and we would have special membership cards and a special seating section for club members at all home games. It would be like a student booster club for women's basketball."

The women's volleyball team is hoping to bounce back from losses suffered during a West Coast trip. The team, which left Lincoln Nov. 1 with a 36-0 record, returned last weekend with a 38-7 mark.

The Huskers first will have to play in their own University of Nebraska Tournament Saturday in the Coliseum.

Chances good

"The chances of the two Nebraska teams finishing one-two are very good," Sullivan said of the five-team, round-robin tournament.

Other teams besides the two Nebraska entries in the tournament include the Lincoln Volleyball Club, Kansas State University and the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

"The varsity has already beaten Kansas State and UNO this year and the junior varsity lost to the UNO varsity earlier in a close match, so they will be up for this tournament."

Sullivan said that her team had never played against the Lincoln Volleyball Club but that "it consists of some of our old players so they should be pretty good."

Other women's athletic events this weekend include the regional tournament for the field hockey team in Liberty, Mo. Friday and Saturday. The women's swim team will open its season Saturday against Kearney State College at the new pool in the UNL Sports Complex.

Junior fullback Dodie Donnell looks like he had a long afternoon against Oklahoma State last Saturday. He ranks behind I-backs Monte Anthony and Richard Berns on Nebraska's rushing chart after nine games. This week's game pits the Big 8 Conference's leading passer, Vince Ferragamo, against the number two passer, Wayne Stanley of Iowa State. Ferragamo also leads the conference in total offense with Stanley again trailing. However, the Cyclones lead the Big 8 in total and scoring offense. But, you guessed it, the Huskers lead in total and scoring defense.
