

Options! Opportunities! Alternatives!

Whichever is your favorite catchword . . . whatever gives your life that special challenge . . . well, you can find it in today's Army. And you can talk to the people who can fill in the details. How?

On:
When:
Where:

Here are some of the more than 300 Military Occupational Specialties (MOS) available . . . if you qualify. They may just surprise you as to their wide scope.

Behavioral Science Specialist • Dental Lab Specialist • Personnel Management Specialist Chaplain's Assistant • Flight Operations and Air Traffic Tower Operator (yes, the Army has a lot of airplanes) • Nike Hercules Fire Control Mechanic • Career Management for Band (here are 18 different jobs from woodwind player to bandmaster) • Electronic Warfare/Signal Intelligence Voice Interpreter • Image Interpreter • Military Police

And for more excitement, the Army reps can tell you about the Warrant Officer Flight Training Program . . . with its 42-week course to teach you to be an Army aviator.

One more option to discuss: Officer Candidate School.

Interested? This is your chance to explore the Army's many possibilities, complete with iron-clad guarantee on your job. Benefits can be discussed like good starting pay, insurance, food, clothing, travel. You could work in Europe, Hawaii, Korea, Panama, the Canal Zone or just stay right here in the continental U.S.A.

Don't miss this chance to find out what the Army can offer you and your future.

Join the People Who've
Joined the Army

Innocents tackle new members

Innocents, UNL senior honor society, this week tackled 13 new members and three honorary members for the 1977-78 school year.

Honorary members selected were Utica Sen. Douglas Bereuter, Miles Tommeraaen, vice chancellor for business and finance, and Rachel Jensen, secretary for the Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Association.

Bereuter, a member of the legislature since 1974, sponsored legislation last year providing money to improve undergraduate education at UNL. Bereuter was tapped Wednesday morning at the Capitol and the ceremony read into the record.

Tommeraaen has been vice chancellor since 1969 and has been at the university since 1964.

Jensen also serves as secretary for the Innocents and has been at UNL more than 10 years.

Newly selected Innocents, Mortarboard members, Notable women selected by Mortarboard, and Innocents scholarship winners will be honored at a luncheon on Ivy Day, April 30, Mortarboard members were announced earlier. Notable women and scholarship winners will be announced soon.

Innocents, all juniors, their majors, hometowns and activities:

Kenneth Christofferson, political science from Gordon, ASUN senator.

William Connealy, agriculture honors from Whitman, has worked with the Student Alumni Board, chancellor-elect of Alpha Zeta agriculture honorary.

John Dewulf, economics from Atlantic, Iowa, is active with the Nebraska Human Resources Foundation and has worked with the Interfraternity Council.

Thomas Diehm, history from Lincoln, has served as chairman of the Union Program Council's Foreign Films Committee.

Nate Eckloff, agriculture honors from Minden, has served on the Student Alumni Board, Publications Board, Corn Cobs executive board and as vice chairman of the Fees Allocation Board.

Craig Hertel, agronomy from Clay Center, president of the East Union Program Council.

Mark Mackie, University studies from Omaha, has participated in Model United Nations, is a page at the Nebraska Legislature and a Husker gymnast.

Kenneth Marienau, business administration from Kearney, has been president of Selleck Residence-Hall and a member of the ASUN executive cabinet.

Ron Ruggless, journalism from Atkinson, is associate news editor of the Daily Nebraskan.

Rex Seline, journalism from Omaha, is news editor of the Daily Nebraskan.

Judith Siminow, social science and secondary education from Curtis, president of the Residence Hall Association.

Mark Westphal, civil engineering from North Platte, has worked with the ASUN Government Liaison Committee.

Bruce Whitacre, business administration from Kearney, chairman of the Union Program Council Talks and Topics Committee.

Randy Cipriano pleads no contest

Randy Cipriano, 19, son of UNL basketball coach Joe Cipriano, pleaded no contest Monday to assault charges and was fined $75 and court costs.

Municipal Court Judge Donald Grant fined Cipriano in connection with the beating of UNL senior James Wolken in March.

Cipriano allegedly beat Wolken in Wolken's Selleck Quadrangle room. Wolken reportedly had held a sign criticizing coach Cipriano at a televised basketball game in February 1976.

"The coach likes me heavy, but I like me light."

(William Webb Ellis, rugby legend)

96 calories, approximately one third fewer than our other fine beer.

It took Schlitz to bring the taste to light.

MAURICES

GUNNY'S COMPLEX
245 No. 13th St.

The Bike JACKET

...in slick
Metallic Silver!

Always on the right
track, rain or shine!
Snazzy ring zip front, hooded with knit cuffs and border trim.
Sizes 5-13.
Tops with active sports!

$28

Mon. Sat. 10-6
Thurs. 10-9

Fashion doesn't cost a fortune at MAURICES!