

Sherry Cole resigns FAB post

Sherry Cole, Fees Allocation Board (FAB) chairman, has resigned her post because the UNL administration office has no proof she is a student, ASUN president Bill Mueller told the ASUN Senate Wednesday night. At Senate's weekly meeting in Nebraska East Union, Mueller said the administration cannot find Cole's transcripts and she needs to find them to graduate in May. Cole resigned because she needs time to clear up this problem, he said and stressed that there was no pressure on her to quit.

Mueller said FAB will elect a new chairperson at tonight's meeting at 7 p.m. in Nebraska Union.

The Senate also discussed the senator's appearance at Saturday's NU Board of Regents meeting. Three senators will speak for 15 minutes against the proposed student fees increase.

In other business, Sen. Lyle George appeared in Open Forum to report the results of the UNL Student Court hearing on his case against FAB.

Although they decided against the case, George said the court told him that ASUN should make recommendations to FAB about fees allocation. ASUN counsel Steve Voigt said he interpreted this to mean that the court believes ASUN should call for election rather than appointment of FAB members.

Supreme court okays faculty bargaining units

The Nebraska Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that there can be a number of bargaining units within NU and departmental chairmen are labor, not management.

The 5-4 decision upheld an earlier ruling by the Court of Industrial Relations which was appealed to the Supreme Court by the NU Board of Regents.

The Court noted that there are differences between University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO), the NU Medical Center and UNL and said it was proper for the American Association of University Professors to be the exclusive bargaining agent for the UNL faculty, according to the Lincoln Journal.

Separate bargaining units for the Colleges of Law and Dentistry were approved. The question of recognition came before a faculty vote February 16, 1976. Only the Law College voted to be represented by a bargaining unit. UNL faculty rejected unionization.

The decision "rests on our belief the UNL faculty has a sufficient community of interest separate from the faculty of UNO," the Court said in its opinion.
